Over 60 Applicants For Post

At least three members of the Andover School Committee will continue to pour over 60-some applications for a new personnel manager, despite the criticism of Committeemen William Lane and William Van N. Washburn.

The two objected at last Wednesday's meeting, that it was a waste of time to follow the policy voted at the previous session.

The plan was to have each committeeman read each resume, and then submit a list of 10 preferences. That list would then be narrowed down and the top candidates interviewed.

Washburn said he would like to see three candidates nominated by Seifert for consideration by the committee, and added that he was "not going to look through these resumes."

"Each group member has the option of not participating," Chairman Grank Griggs said.

In other personnel action, the committee elected Mrs. Rosamond Bastable as business education teacher and head that department at the high school. Her appointment, effective January 6, carries a $16,067 salary.

Mrs. Bastable holds a B.S. and M.Ed. degree from Salem State and has taken business education courses at Boston University.

She previously has been a business ed teacher at Glastonbury, Conn., at Chandler School.

20¢

The newsstand and news carrier price of the TOWNSMAN is now 20¢, effective with today's edition. The majority of New England weekly newspapers are and have been 20¢ for as long as two years. We have tried to hold the line, but mounting costs in every facet of our operations now make it necessary to take this action. The annual subscription rate is now $8.50.

Economy Status Is Factor, In Budget Preparations

A change in the town bylaws, which allows the presentation of the annual town budget after Dec. 1, has come just in time for local administrators.

Current economic conditions which must be considered in the budget preparation and planning have not been as poor for many years and are causing Town Manager J. Maynard Austin to take a different view in his estimation of municipal costs for the year ahead.

Up until this year, the town manager and school department were, by charter, required to submit their budget requests to the selectmen and finance committee. A change in fiscal planning, which now places the town at a July to June fiscal year, necessitated a change in the budget presentation which was approved at town meeting a year ago.

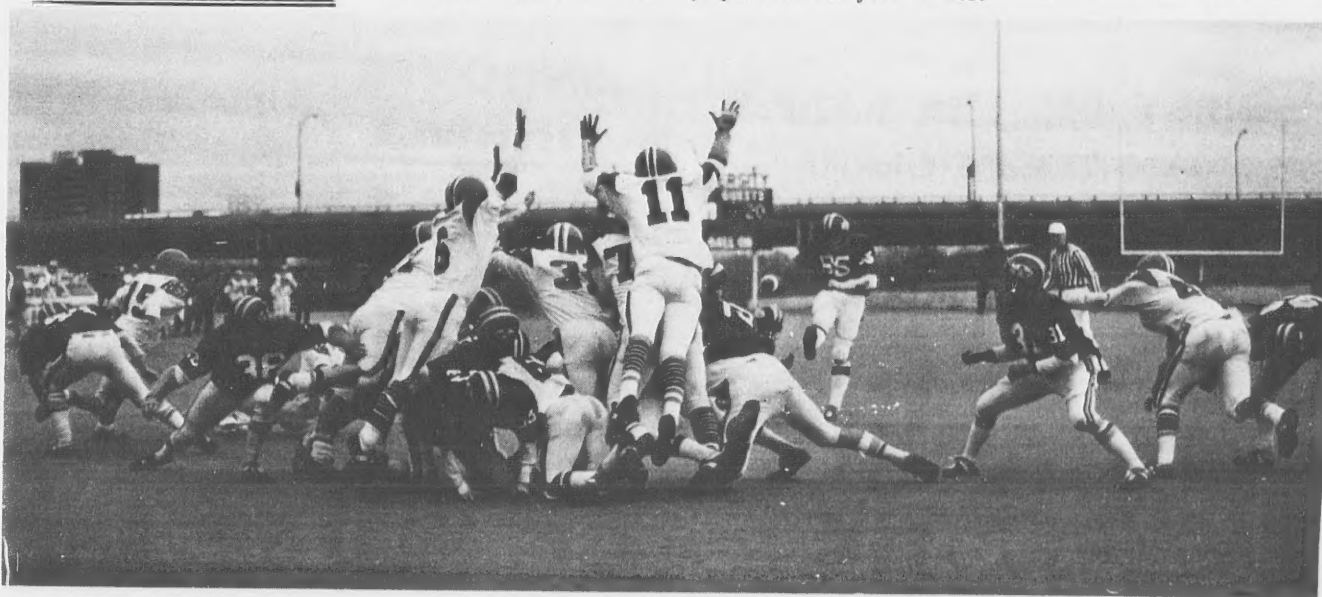

Austin reported this week that he is happy that the change was made, because budget preparation this year is most difficult, taking into consideration the state of the economy and the dire forecasts facing the state and nation.

"We are sure the people would like to see a budget with no increase in it, but that it is a most difficult, if not impossible task," the manager said.

Conditions effecting the economy are changing almost daily, the manager pointed out, making it difficult to evaluate

The Life Of Reilly Is Golden

It all came down to this last Saturday as the Golden Warriors defeated Salem 21-20 in overtime for the Division II Super Bowl championship. Peter Reilly (85) has just sent the football en route to parting the goal posts for the winning extra point. The winning action was captured by Andover High photographers Mark Moriarty and Bill Denoncourt.

Dreams Are Made Of Such As Super Bowl Endings

By Rick Harrison

Reilly had followed by splitting the uprights with the conversion kick, and pandemonium had exploded as never-say-die

Andover stunned Salem, 21-20, with an incredible last-ditch double comeback to win Division II Super Bowl IV and finish a perfect 11-0-0 season.

But this unbelievable game was so much more than just a battle royale between two excellent grid powers.

It was Andover's injured quarterback Jeff Winters, the Warrior with the wounded wing, overcoming a dislocated shoulder, a badly-bruised heel and four interceptions to fire the tying touchdown pass to Sparky Farnham with 11 seconds left in regulation time.

It was the Salem defense, to a man, in a rare display of outstanding sportsmanship and class, refusing to manhandle

Collins Honored; Winters Named MVP

Quarterback Jeff Winters was awarded the Most Valuable Player award at the annual banquet honoring the Andover High football team Wednesday night at the West Junior High School.

The presentation was part of the awards program for the newly crowned state champs, and featured a 30-minute tribute to Head Football Coach Dick Collins, who celebrated his 20th season as Andover's grid coach, a season that saw him getting a bonus in the form of a Super Bowl title.

Winters was presented the Eugene V. Lovely Most Valuable Player Award.

T.J. Stamas was presented the Gus Connolly Attitude Award.

Varsity Club trophies for the top offensive and defensive players went to Dave Tallini and John MacDonald respectively.

The Charles Mourikas Memorial Award, given in memory of a beloved former teacher, was presented to Bill Kenney.

Game balls were presented to ten members of the Super Bowl team, all seniors. The recipients were Russ Tassanari, Brian Flannery, Ralph Borelli, Mark Hamilton, Alan Sherrerd, Paul McIntyre, Duncan Black, Steve Fabiani, Pete Reilly and Craig Eosefow.

Named as Tri-Captains for the 1975 Golden Warriors were Glenn Verrette, Bill Alexander and John Drivas.

Even Trash Is Going To Cost More

The price of plastic bags used in the town's municipal refuse pickup service, will increase to 11 cents each, with a package of 20 costing $2.20, it was announced this week.

The price hike is necessitated by the increased costs of supplying the bags to the town by the petrochemical industry which provides the materials for making the bags.

Assistant Town Manager Sheldon Cohen reports that 20 firms indicated they would bid on the bags, but only one company finally submitted a proposal.

The town will be purchasing the bags at a cost of 9.45 cents and merchants will receive one cent for handling the sale.

Cohen indicated that with the new shipment of bags, enough to last through next July, the town will wind up just about breaking even on providing the bags for sale.

The new price will be effective within a week or so, or as soon as the supply at the old price runs out.

Winters and choosing instead to tackle the gutsy AHS signal-caller almost with kid-glove tenderness.

It was the post-game reaction of proud parents Doug and Iora Alexander, who embraced son Bill as he emerged grinning from the Warriors' locker room hours after the finish when victory fever was still at its highest pitch.

It was a siren-wailing police escort back through the center of town to the high school.

It was a series of all-night victory parties.

It was all this and so much more.

Collins 'Still Numb'

Monday night, more than 48 hours after the game, Dick Collins was still sailing about six inches off the ground.

"I'm still numb from the whole thing," sighed Collins. "There is no question it's the biggest coaching thrill I've had in 20 years, and something none of us will forget for the rest of our lives."

"When the game was over we said a little prayer. There wasn't much else to say, the damn locker room was so emotional. There is just no experience quite like it in the world," offered Collins.

How do you explain the indescribable?

Poise No Fluke

The most remarkable aspect of the victory was the incredible coolness with which Andover operated.

"Confidence and poise are not things you can drill into an athlete," related Collins. "It has to come from within the kid himself."

"We (coaches) did impress upon these kids all season the idea that it only takes one play to get you back in a game or win it . . . not to get discouraged when you're stopped."

"And we did score so many times on the one-shot type of play that the kids never felt they were beaten," continued Collins.

"We rarely talk about winning because it only gets the players uptight. You just take the game one play at a time."

"What it really comes down to is that we had a group of 'class' kids this season."

"They were not super athletes physically, but they had an inner quality of competitiveness that was developed over many years."

"A lot of people contributed to Glenn Verrette's being an athlete, or Jeff Winters, or John McDonald or Bill Alexander."

"That's why I'm a great believer in the three-sport athlete. The kid that goes to the foul line for a crucial shot in basketball, or the kid that comes to bat needing a clutch hit in baseball, is going to become accustomed to pressure. That's the player who will perform the best for you in football, also. It all carries over."

"You've gotta work to be an outstanding athlete," concluded Collins.

"Beyond Description"

"I won't recover for at least another two or three weeks," chipped in veteran Coach Bill Vickers, who nevertheless was putting the JV basketball team through its opening practice paces less than five hours after the Super Bowl finish.

"The feeling is just beyond description. We didn't show that much emotion during the game, and were pleased that we could keep things in perspective. But when it was all over, it was like letting the air out of a balloon. Everyone broke down," related Vickers.

"These kids just didn't quit. Winters was an inspiration to the rest of the team. I'll never forget the look on Jeff's face when he came out of the game with about 1:30 to play. He was ready to cash in his chips," recalled the coach.

"I don't know why I said it . . . I had no right to say it . . . but I

Planning Tribute To Team

Plans are being made to honor the Andover High football team at a later date.

Preliminary plans include a showing of the film of the game itself played last Saturday at Nickerson Field, Boston, at a future date.

Anyone wishing to make a donation to the committee planning the tribute to the championship team, may do so by sending it to the Boosters Club, Inc., care of Homer Wadman, 107 High St., Andover.

Anyone interested in assisting in planning of the tribute which will take place after the holiday season, is asked to contact either Bob McIntyre or Doug Alexander, of the Boosters club, who will be calling for an organizational meeting in the near future.

told him that "this thing's not over yet. We're gonna get the ball back for you." I just knew we were going to do it," enthused Vickers.

FCA Produces Desire

Vickers and team trainer Bob King are also prime movers in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) organization, which they believe has been a key factor in developing that characteristic called poise.

"In all sincerity I think the devotionals we held every Saturday did a lot to develop the poise these kids possess," explained Vickers.

"The FCA is a national organization, headed by Dallas Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry, that blends religion and athletics with every other aspect of life."

"About two-thirds of the varsity football team belongs to FCA, and tonight (Monday), for example, I had 30 kids in my living room discussing a wide variety of subjects."

"In regards to football we stress the team concept, building confidence in the individual's own ability while realizing that nobody can do it all by himself," noted Vickers.

"We go right to the Bible at the weekly meetings and start there. These kids in FCA have conducted Sunday church services at St. Augustine's, Free, St. Robert's and in Chelmsford, Lowell and Methuen."

"These are not your typical 17 and 18 year olds, and what we learn from FCA carries over onto the football field," pointed out Vickers.

Super Sidelights

Jeff Winters and T.J. Stamas will both have shoulder operations next Tuesday, and they will be sharing the same doctor and hospital room.

The dislocated shoulder and badly-bruised heel will sideline Winters for a good portion of the upcoming basketball season. But while he won't be on the floor, Jeff will be participating.

"He asked me if he could be an assistant and also do some scouting of teams for us," reported JV Coach Vickers. "That's the type of kid he is,"

Dick Collins couldn't say enough about the Salem players and the way they treated Winters.

"I have so much respect for them and the manner in which they play the game, that it's hard to put into words," stated Collins.

"They are football players and not thugs . . . not cheap-shot artists. Several times they could have blind-sided Jeff and didn't. They wanted to beat us with Winters in the lineup."

Looking ahead to next year already, Andover will have 15 of the present 1974 Super Bowl players returning along with some 48 JVs.

"We have a little bit more coming back in the interior line next year than we had at the start of this season. In the backfield we lose Winters, Steve Fabiani, Dave Tallini and Craig Eosefow. Linemen who are graduating include John MacDonald, Alan Sherrard, Bill Kenny, Mark Hamilton, Ralph Borelli and Paul McIntyre."

Check what's coming back, though.

Glenn Verrette, Mark Farnham, Bill Alexander, John Fabiani, Gerry Stabile, Dan Billings, John Drivas, Mike McCormick, Mike Bernard and Tom Henderson to mention a few.

Pete Reilly, alas, will pack up his toe and leave.

But for all those seniors, what memories to savor!

Everyone was high in their praise of Assistant Coach Dick Bourdelais, whose pre-season task was to patch together a pair of lines that boasted just one returning starter - Bill Kenney.

"I'll never be pessimistic again," promised Collins.

"What a fantastic job he did," added Vickers. "He took a kid like Ralph Borelli, who had been a back since seventh grade, and converted him to a fine guard. Dan Billings was an end or back, and he made him a center. The kids responded amazingly."

The Super Bowl game ball will be retained at the school.

"It would be impossible to decide who to give it to," agreed both Collins and Vickers. "So many people deserved it."

John Drivas did the centering for all punts and extra points. You better believe his role was an important one!

Andover came out of the Bowl game so banged up it would be tough to field a team this Saturday if necessary.

Gerry Stabile left early with a knee injury, but is reportedly okay now, while a number of kids including Verrette, Winters, Steve Fabiani and Drivas sustained burns from the polyturf.

Dr. Wolfe, Geologist Honored

Dr. Caleb Wroe Wolfe, of 2 Carriage Hill Road, Andover, renowned New England geologist and new member of the Salem State College Earth Science Department, has been named the recipient of the Geological Society of America's 1974 Neil Miner Award.

Bestowed by the Society each year upon an American geology scholar who is judged (by a committee of 5 geologists) to be the most outstanding educator in the field, the Miner Award consists of a citation of merit, rather than a cash award.

Dr. Wolfe was presented with the award at the Geological Society's annual convention in Miami, Florida recently by Professor Thomas H. Hendrix (Indiana University), President of the National Association of Geology Teachers.

The Geological Society will pay further tribute to Dr. Wolfe later this year when it plans to publish a special Wolfe Volume of scholarly articles on New England Geology. Selections from Dr. Wolfe's works will be prominently featured in the publication, which will include articles by other geologists influenced by Wolfe's earlier work. During the course of his teaching career, Wolfe has published more than 100 articles and monographs on different aspects of geology, as well as seven books and several laboratory manuals.

Founder of Boston University's Department of Geology, Prof. Wolfe was a member of the B.U. faculty for some 33 years, during 15 of which he served as the Geology Department's Chairman.

A fellow of the Geological Society of America, and member of the Mineralogical Society of America, Dr. Wolfe is listed in Who's Who, Who's Who in Science, Who's Who in the World, and the International Biographical Dictionary.

Bell System Aids Area Economy

The Bell System poured more than $1.5 billion into the economy of New England Telephone's five state operating area in 1973, a recently completed tabulation shows.

Local telephone manager Allan R. McPhail, Jr. says the total includes purchases by Western Electric in Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont. Western Electric is the supply unit for New England Telephone and other Bell System companies.

Western Electric paid $3.4 million to 90 suppliers in Lawrence in 1973. Payments to sixty suppliers in seven of Lawrence's neighboring communities totaled $8 million last year.

The Bell System, one of New England's largest private employers, has a payroll of about 48,000 employees in Massachusetts.

McPhail says employees of New England Telephone, Western Electric, Bell Laboratories and the Long Lines Department of AT&T were paid a total of $681 million in the five-state area last year.

State and local taxes paid by the Bell System last year amounted to nearly $123.6 million in the five states.

Winter Courses For Children

January is a time when short days and severe weather mean long days indoors for many young people. Trees lose their leaves, familiar summer animals go south or hibernate, and life seems to come to a halt. The observant naturalist knows this isn't true. There is lots going on outside if you know where to look and Massachusetts Audubon Society's Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary is offering three special four-week courses this winter for children who would like to learn how at the Nature Center on Cherry Street in Wenham.

Fours and Fives for preschoolers and their mothers will meet on Wednesday mornings starting Jan. 8. B P Pathfinders for 6 to 8 year olds will meet on Tuesday afternoons after school beginning Jan. 7 and Irncaws Pathfinders for boys and girls aged 8 through 11 will be held on Wednesdays after school starting Jan. 8. All programs will spend as much time as possible in outdoor exploration but related crafts and games are planned for indoors on very cold days.

Each course will be designed for its own particular age level and enrollment will be limited to ensure individual attention for all participants. Pre-payment and registration are required. For further information and a descriptive flyer, please call the Sanctuary office Tuesday through Friday at 887-2241.

Christmas Concerts At Castle

The Hammond Castle will have its ninth annual Christmas Carol Concerts on Sundays, Dec. 15 and 22 at 3 o'clock. Organist is the museum director, Mrs. Corinne B. Witham, and carol leader, Mrs. Gloria Cahoon. An interesting and entertaining program has been planned and the carol concerts are very popular as people join in the Great Hall to sing Christmas carols.

Organist Kenneth Wilson will present a series of Christmas concerts on Friday evenings, Dec. 13 and 20, and Saturdays, Dec. 14 and 21 at 8:30 p.m. On Dec. 14 it will be the 200th organ concert Kenneth Wilson has played at the Hammond Castle.

Reservations for the Christmas concerts should be made well in advance to assure seating. Telephone the Castle for ticket information.

A Santa Shake

Two year old Patrick Finn of Andover enjoys shaking hands with Santa Claus during the annual Santa Claus landing event at Prudential Center, Saturday, Nov. 30. Patrick was one of the more than 500 youngsters who greeted Santa when he alighted from a helicopter at the Center's helipad for a pre-Christmas visit to the Hub. Santa and the giant snowman, Bonhomme, distributed candy to the children and escorted them to a free puppet show in the 52-story Tower Building Lobby.

Troop 68 To Entertain Patients

Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 68, St. Augustine School, will be singing Christmas Carols for the patients at Cole's Nursing Home, Andover, December 18.

The same day, they will also begin delivering toys they have made for youngsters of St. Ann's Home and in South Boston.

The girls recently earned their toymaking badges by making 60 toys, and they also collected usable clothing, with the help of Sisters Mary Rosalie, S.N.D. and Louise, S.N.D.

At a December 11 ceremony at the St. Augustine School Hall, the following girls received badges:

Marybeth Emmons, Toymaker; Charlotte Grant, Toymaker; Jean Oelwang, Toymaker; Julie Burke, Toymaker; Norma Jean Paris, Toymaker; Jill Lopresti, Toymaker; Cook, Housekeeper; My Home, Pen Pal; Songster; Linda Ahles, Toymaker; Lea Treed, Toymaker; Christine Fortier, Toymaker; Marianne Morrison, Collector; Dabblers; Cook, Water Fun; Susie Mae Katis, Dabblers; Maria McAnn, Dabblers; Janine Cahill, Dabblers; Joyce Mower, Dabblers; Terri Anne McKetrick, Dabblers; Andrea Holbrook, Dabblers; Kim Byrne, Dabblers; Mary Ferragamo, Sewing; Pen Pal and Eileen Fitzgerald, Sewing, Dabblers.

Guests at the ceremony were Sr. Mary Rosalie, Sr. Madeline, Sr. Estelle, Sr. Ellen, Sr. Claire, Sr. Louise, Sr. Kathleen, Mrs. Gwynne Lopresti made the table setting.

Mrs. Janice Ferragamo will supply the transportation to St. Ann's and to South Boston, to deliver the toys. She will be accompanied by Jill Lopresti, Julie King, Marianne Morrison and Norma Jean Paris.

Annual Christmas Concert At Library

The Hall at Memorial Hall Library will be the scene of the annual Christmas concert to be presented on Dec. 17 at 7:30 p.m. The concert, under the direction of Joseph Pulvina and his Swing- ing Strings, will include many popular favorites concluding with a Christmas medley.

The musicians are from local 372 and are performing under a grant from the Musicians Trust Fund of the recording industry.

Refreshments will be served and we are inviting all members of the community to attend this festive holiday affair.

New Art Display

The new group of paintings now on display at the library is the work of Jean Beauregard, an abstract painter, who has studios in Round Pond, Maine and New York City. Her work, done in oil on canvas, has colors that can be vivid or subdued with a calm grouping of forms and a certain amount of zany playfulness.

Miss Beauregard has exhibited at various Maine galleries as well as the Patrea Gallery in New York. She began her art studies in Italy and later worked at the Art Students League in New York under Marshall Glasier and Sidney Gross.

Christmas Book Lists

Copies of recommended book lists for Christmas giving are available at the circulation and reference desks. One of the lists has been prepared by members of our own staff and the other by the Eastern Mass. Regional Library system.

These should prove to be very helpful to our patrons and we hope you will pick them up when you visit the library.

Christmas Decorations

When you visit us we hope you will enjoy the beautiful Christmas decorations in our main reading room and in the downstairs Children's Room. They can be credited to the fine work of the Four Seasons Garden Club and we of the staff express our deepest appreciation to their members.

Invitation To Christmas Carolers

At 6 p.m. on Dec. 23 all those who are interested in singing Christmas carols are welcome to join us. We will meet on the front steps of the library and after the caroling is over we'll return to the library for some nice hot chocolate. Come join us.

Children's Room News By Jan Johnson

We are so proud of the Christmas decorations in the Children's Room this year. The Four Seasons Garden Club of Andover provided us with enchanting gingerbread men and lollipops. Then thirty-five children came to the library last Saturday morning to string popcorn and cranberries, to cut snowflakes, to fold and glue paper fans for tree ornaments and to put together the longest paper chain we've ever seen. We heartily recommend that you drop by to see these wonderful decorations. Our thanks to everyone who helped make our Children's Room the prettiest ever.

Parents, as you think ahead to school vacation, include us in your plans. An hour-long film will be shown for grade-school children at 10:30 each day, Dec. 27, 28, 30 and 31. Admission is free and everyone is welcome (although children under 6 must be accompanied by an adult). The program is as follows: Dec. 27; The Nutcracker, Dec. 28; Stuart Little, Dec. 30; The Hound who thought he was a racoon, Dec. 31; One wish too many.

Please meet us in the Children's Room for each of these. See you there.

Vermont Schools Represented

Admissions representatives from the Northern Vermont College Consortium will be in Andover, on Dec. 11, to meet with area students. Colleges in the consortium are Champlain, Johnson State, University of Vermont, and Norwich University - Vermont College.

Students and their parents may meet with any of the representatives beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School on River Road.

Champlain is a two-year business-oriented college offering majors in accounting,

Preparing Christmas Decorations

Skating Classes Set For Y

The Andover-North Andover YMCA, through the cooperation of the Andover Skating Club, will offer ice skating classes in its Winter Term program and will also offer roller skating. Folders with full particulars are available at the new YMCA building, 165 Haverhill St. where registrations will be accepted from the general public beginning Dec. 19.

Informal roller skating will be offered at the North Andover YMCA facility (Community Center) on Wednesdays starting Jan. 8. A group of boys and girls in grades 1-3 will meet 3:30-4:30 p.m. and grades will meet 4:30-5:30 p.m. A limited number of skates are available, or skaters may bring their own if they have indoor wheels.

All ice skating classes will be conducted at the Phillips Academy rink. Informal skating or instruction will be offered to women on Wednesday 9-10 a.m.

for beginners or on Monday 9-10 a.m. for intermediates. Skaters may earn achievement badges of the United States Figure Skating Association. Instruction for preschoolers (4 & 5 years) will be offered on Tuesdays 9:15-10 a.m. A class for mothers and preschoolers will be offered on Thursdays 9-10 a.m. Instructor Shirley McDowell will be director of the YMCA skating program, for the 8 week courses, which start the week of Jan. 6.

Stewards

Gordon A. Gaskill, Valley Road, Boxford and Mrs. William W. Kurth, 136 Salem St., North Andover, will be stewards at the 61st annual Eastern Dog Club all-breeds show to be held on Saturday, Dec. 14, in Hynes Auditorium at Prudential Center in Boston.

A total of 2327 canines have been entered in the event representing 118 of the recognized breeds or variety of breed.

A demonstration of sled dog racing by the Yankee Siberian Husky Club and Junior Showmanship Competition for youngsters from ten to 17 years of age will also be featured.

Elementary Schools Ski Program Set

The Andover Recreation/Community Schools Department has completed arrangements with the Bradford Ski Area on a program of ski lessons for Andover elementary schools.

The program will begin Jan. 13, and will consist of skiing lessons over a period of four consecutive weeks. The instructors will conduct these classes for students of eight to ten in each group. After lessons there will be free and informal skiing with full use of the Bradford Ski Area Facilities.

The schools participating will be Bancroft, Doherty, Shawsheen, South, Sanborn and West Elementary. Transportation will be provided by the Trombly Motor Coach Company of Andover. Buses will leave these schools at 2:45 p.m. and return to these same areas at 6 p.m. Rental of equipment will be available at the Bradford Ski Area.

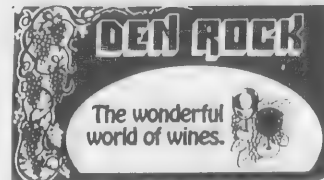

The Bradford School has one of the area's most modern and up to date ski teaching programs. The school is headed by Ted Sutton of Andover who is a certified Professional Ski Instructor of America. The school staff is comprised of some 35 outstanding instructors. Bradford is provided with such features as a 1200 foot Mueller T-Bar; rope tows and three open slopes, plus a separate beginners and novice area. A new and modern Base Lodge is available. The hill is completely lighted with mercury-vapor lighting and has the most modern snow-making equipment in this area. The hill is owned and operated by the Sawyer family.

The classes will be taught using a new concept, the American Technique, which enables beginners to advance quickly, much faster than with the old rigid snow plow method.

Registration forms will be distributed in the third through sixth grades. Registration must be limited to the first 50 students at each school. Additional forms will be available at the Recreation/Community Schools office, 36 Bartlet St., Andover. If there are any questions concerning this program, contact the department.

Dudes, Sweepers Unbeaten

After last Thursday's contests, the Dudes retained sole possession of first place in the 19-32 Division while the Sweepers captured first place in the Over 33 Division. Both teams have unblemished 3-0 records.

The Hornets fell easy prey to the Dudes as they lost 62-33 to their league leaders. High scoring Jim Lamy paced the Dudes with 14 points. Bill Batchelder helped with 13 while Pat Emery had 8. Sam Washburn and Dick Corry scored 9 apiece for the losers.

Vin Doherty, averaging 18 points a game, paced the Panthers to a 53-32 victory over Doherty by tossing in 20 points. Other Panthers helping were Dick McAhern with 13 and Crash Corrington with 10. Dave Murphy with 14, Don Mooers with 10 and Hart Legner with 8 contributed all Doherty scoring.

The No-Names got back to their winning ways by edging the Drivers 50-43. Dave Leach and Pete Lafond led the victors with 15 points apiece. Drivers scoring was paced by Pete Mullet's 18 and George Brouder's 10.

In the Over 33 Division, the Embassy was stung by a fired up Warriors team, losing 56-53. The Warriors got a super performance from Keng Jen Lee who posted 23 points for the winners. Also aiding the Warriors attack was Lowell Canovitch with 14 and Dick Swift with 9. Embassy scorers included Don Strong 18, Wally Gardner 14 and Bill Merit 10.

Capitalizing on the Embassy loss, the Sweepers moved into undisputed possession of first place with a big win over the Strobes 36-26. Pete Finn tossed in 15 while Milt Beaudine posted 8 for the winners. Strobe scoring came mostly from Bob MacPherson's 14 and Jack Roman's 8.

Dana's chalked up their first victory of the season by downing the winless Pick-ups 24-20. Joe Carbone, Les Gilbert, Dennis Hughes and Mike Block led Dana's balanced scoring. Elliot Bolan and Dave Morehead contributed 6 points apiece for the losers.

"First A Friend - Then A Host"

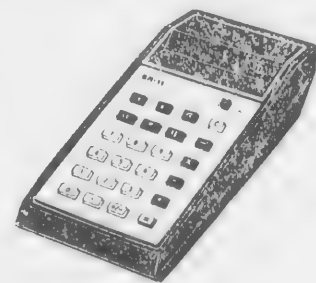

Driving to a holiday party this weekend? Triple-A wishes you a merry time -- and offers this advice to make sure your memories of a festive evening won't be marred by a needless highway mishap: don't pass up the food and snacks your host provides, since eating helps moderate the effects of any alcohol you may drink. And about an hour before you're ready to head for home, make it either coffee -- or none for the road.

No Surprises In Opener

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 12, 1974

By Rick Harrison
There were no surprises in the opening round of the Andover

Church Basketball League's Senior Division, as St. Augustine A, St. Robert's B and both West

Parish teams cruised to easy victories.

They joined St. Robert's B, a 52-18 winner over South in the divisional lidlifter, as the teams who will probably be battling it out for the top spots throughout the winter.

Ten Players Score

St. Augustine A managed to get all 10 hoopsters in the scoring act, as it launched the campaign with a 48-15 conquest of new entry Ballard Vale United.

The victors sped to a 24-4 lead after one quarter, stretched it to 36-8 by halftime, and coasted home from there.

Tom Curtin tossed in 11 points as the lone St. Augustine performer in double figures.

Jim Arnold and Terry Schwing were next in line with 6 points apiece, while Vinnie Nikonchuk hooped 5 markers and 4 points were added by Bob Beaudine, Mark Bedell, Mike Schwing and Tim Morin.

Solo buckets were notched by Rich Gusmini and Richie Sambuco to round out the assault.

Dave Wilson provided the main answering fire for Ballard Vale with 9 points. Flipping through two-pointers were Dave Palmquist, Scott Matheson and Bruce Bean in the first half.

Dave Livingston and Brian Hollenbeck also played well in a losing cause.

Fortune Paves Way

St. Robert's A broke an 8-8 first period deadlock to grab a 20-14 advantage at intermission, and a big fourth quarter spurt iced the club's 36-18 decision over St. Augustine B.

Lefthander Chris Fortune lived up to his name with 14 well-timed points for St. Robert's.

MARK PARO (L) of the West Parish Senior Division basketball team drives past a Free Church defender in opening round action of the Andover Church Basketball League. Paro finished the game with three points as West coasted to an easy victory.

First-year Senior player Carmen Frederico also cracked twin digits by stuffing 11 points, while Scott Praetz netted 7 and Bob Allard garnered 4 markers.

Rick Shore, big Dan Bradley and speedy Rich Marciano also turned in solid two-way performances for the St. Robert's quintet.

Manny Silva and Tim Paris pumped through 8 points each to ignite the St. Augustine B offense.

Mike Lynch banked in a first quarter bucket, while several rebounds and fine defensive plays were registered by Mike Brennan, Gary Luby and Robbie Robinson.

West A. Rolls

West Parish A placed three courtmen in double digits and was never in danger enroute to a 59-4 triumph over Free Church.

Randy Hayman poured in 14 points, while Tim Sweeney and Carl Wetterberg canned 12 apiece, lifting West A to the winners' circle.

Jeff Rosen chipped in with 8 points, Billy Hall swished 6 and Mark Paro popped through 3 points in the opening six-minute session.

Completing the rampage were Pete Newton and Dave Donahue with solo second quarter baskets.

Bob Fitzgerald did all the damage for Free by arching in a brace of buckets.

Mike King, Mark Budd, John Carver and Keith Williams all played well for the vanquished club.

Forfeit

West Parish B got its share of first place the easy way, copping a 2-0 forfeit win over undermanned Bible Chapel.

Schedule

The Senior Division resumed play with five games this week, all of which were staged after TOWNSMAN presstime.

NETS Tourney

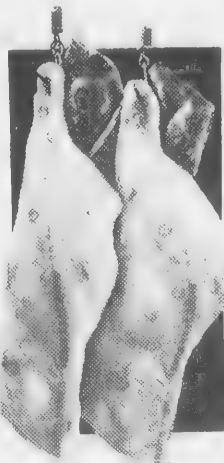

The New England Tennis Stars' (NETS) third $1,500 men's singles and doubles tournament will take place this weekend, December 13-15, at the Cedardale Health and Tennis Club on Route 125 in Haverhill. Following a tournament in Amherst where there were 16 tie-breakers in 21 matches, the NETS virtually guarantee close matches from Friday night through the finals, Sunday afternoon.

Numbered among the local entries will be Sandy Stott, the Cedardale head pro, and Dick Hornidge, the Merrimac Valley singles champ from Andover.

The public is invited to attend all the matches, free of charge.

Three Clubs Still Undefeated

By Rick Harrison

No less than eight teams remained undefeated in the Andover Church Basketball League's Intermediate Division, as nine games were staged last Monday night at the East Junior High and Doherty School gyms.

St. Robert's Finds Gold
John McNamara and big Ira
Gold pooled talents for 33 points, netting 18 and 15 respectively, as
St. Robert's C squashed St.
Augustine C by a 41-14 count.

Todd Zimmerman pitched in with 6 fourth quarter points, and Jamie Lebowitz also canned a basket in the final six minutes for the winners.

Richie Griffin and Gonsalo
Cabral also played well for St.
Robert's.

For St. Augustine's, which trailed 21-10 at halftime, Chris Bedell pumped through 5 points,
Mark Paradis 4, Jay DiIorio 3 and Richie Sambuco swished two fourth quarter charity tosses.

West A Gets 12th
West Parish A, the four-time defending champ, captured its 12th consecutive league start and 39th in 40 games, stopping St.
Augustine D by a 35-8 margin.

Chris Doherty sparked six
West A performers into the scoring column by pouring through 13 points, all in the opening half.

Bob Meier hooped 8 points while Steve Doherty, Bruce Belbin and Scott Harnden tossed in 4 markers apiece. Mike McDonald added a third period bucket.

Hugh Meier, Glen Johnson and Andy Johnson were other West standouts.

Mike White banged in 4 points for St. Augustine D, which scored all its points in the middle two quarters and received single baskets from Ed Trainor and Roger Stramand.

Ernie Perry, Mike O'Connor and Danny McDuffy contributed fine all-around games in a losing cause.

Sirois Sizzles
The only battle of previously-undefeated teams saw St.

Augustine B scamper to a 29-9 conquest of West Parish B.

Paul Sirois was the big offensive gun again with 12 points, while Bill Caselden stuffed 8 markers, Brian Moriarty 6, Chris Kelley a bucket and Peter Walsh notched a last period foul shot.

Tom Walsh, Mike Beaudine and Jim Gioia were additional stalwarts for the victors.

West B, minus center and top scorer Tim Plass, were paced by Jeff Saulnier's 6 points and three by Scott Nolin.

Tom MacDonald, Alex deConsttant, Scott Belbin, Paul Newton and Mark Newton pitched in with good floor games for West B.

Kelley Erupts
Young Ted Kelley exploded for a single-game individual high of 22 points, providing the bulk of the offense as St. Augustine G belled Free-South A, 28-6.

Mike Yuska tipped in 4 points and Mike Curley flipped through a solo basket to give Kelley some support.

Scott Lindstrom pocketed 4 markers and Alan Green stuffed a two-pointer for Free-South, which collected all its points in the fourth canto.

Rathbun On Rampage
Steve Rathbun put together his second big week in succession, netting 16 points as Baptist squeezed past Ballard Vale
United, 22-16.

The game was tight all the way, with the victors managing 4-2, 8-6 and 12-10 leads at the first three checkpoints.

Bobby Heidt was the main answering fire for Ballard Vale
United, dumping in 12 points.
Todd MacLeod and C. Darling completed the offense with fourth and second period baskets respectively.

Praetz Keys Surge
Gregg Praetz pumped the strings for all 5 of his points in the third quarter, keying a 7-0 run by St. Robert's B that broke open a tight game and boosted that quintet past St. Augustine F, 17-13.

The losers rallied gamely in the last six minutes, but fell short.

Jeff Nicastro spearheaded the victors' overall attack with 8 points, while Tommy Daley flipped in 3 markers and Howie
Lebowitz hit a free throw.

Neil Bradley and Wally Hines completed the St. Robert's sparkplugs.

The well-balanced St.
Augustine F charge featured 4 points each by Joe Zemis and Jack Horan. Dave Barker tucked in 3 second period markers, and Chris Valcourt canned a brace of second quarter charity tosses.

Tom Haskard and Dave Carignan contributed fine defensive games for the vanquished.

Hanging On Perched atop a seemingly secure 14-7 lead after three quarters, St. Augustine A was forced to hold on for dear life before pulling out a 17-15 decision over St. Robert's D.

Fred Foote guided the St.
Augustine maneuvers with 7 points, followed by Steve Smith with 4 markers including the game-winning bucket. Jeff Fleming garnered 4 points and Dave Fluet had a basket for the winners.

Dave Gusmini, Tim Bolduc and Pat Paris had some key steals and rebounds to help St.
Augustine.

Vinnie Keegan hooked in 8 points, Frank Byrne 5 and Ted Liszewski dunked a fourth quarter bucket for rallying St.
Robert's D.

Robinson Nets 18
Dave Robinson and K.
O'Meara pooled talents for 30 points, canning 18 and 12 respectively, as St. Augustine E galloped past Free-South B, 38-12.

Tom Galvin pumped in 6 second-half points and K. Donnelly arched in a first period basket to complete the St. Augustine barrage.

Robby Serbagi pushed through 8 markers, all in the fourth canto, while Bruce Barnhill fired in 4 more to lead Free-South B.

Dave Oswan and Carl Bemrow also played outstanding games for F-S.

Rally Fails
The Christ Church Crusaders bombed the nets for 10 fourth quarter points, but the spurt fell just shy of success as St.
Robert's A posted a 17-14 victory.

Saunders delivered 5 points for the victors, trailed by Danner and Tassanari 4 apiece, Craig Lebowitz 2 and Leitch one basket.

Countering for the Crusaders were Mark Rodgers and Ken Taylor with 6 points each. Tom Lockwood hooped 2 markers.

Schedule
Next week will find several unbeaten clubs biting the dust, as West Parish A meets St.
Augustine B in the first of several big games.

West Parish Scoots To Fourth Straight

17

A split with the North Suburban YMCA and a fourth straight victory in the Lawrence Jewish Community Center Biddy Basketball League enabled the West Parish intermediate basketball team to lift its non-league, out-of-town record to 6-1 on the season.

The younger group of West Parish boys rallied in the second half to pull out a 24-15 victory over the strong North Suburban 'Y' All-Stars from Woburn and Burlington.

Guard Chris Doherty once again paced the West Attack with 12 points, while Ted and Dick Kelley hooped 4 points apiece. Solo baskets were registered by Tommy McDonald and Scott Harnden.

Also chipping in with hustling performances for West A were Danny Kimball, Hugh Maier, Paul and Mark Newton, Andy Johnson, Mike Sherman, Scott Belbin and Chris Saulnier. Ted Kelley also rebounded well.

The older intermediate crew didn't fare as well, dropping a 31-12 decision to a bigger and slightly older group from the North Suburban 'Y'.

Bruce Belbin, alternating between forward and center, did the bulk of the scoring for West Parish with 8 points.

Bob Meier swished a brace of free throws and Steve Doherty added a bucket.

West Parish moved the ball well and was able to launch its share of shots, but many of the attempts were forced because the Woburn - Burlington team played a tenacious, quick brand of defense.

Tim Plass pulled down a number of caroms for the Andover contingent, while other standouts were Scott Nolin, Mike McDonald, Glen Johnson and Jim Kimball.

4-0 in J.C.C.

West Parish A coasted to a 13-0 victory over St. Lawrence in a Biddy League contest that ended abruptly on the first play of the third quarter.

The West team had built up that lead over the opening half, and as the third stanza began Chris Doherty drove in for a lay-up but was intentionally fouled by a St. Lawrence player.

When that boy was ejected from the game for unsportsmanlike conduct, the losers' coach pulled his team off the floor and handed West Parish the 13-0 win.

Chris Doherty ramrodded the winners' offense with nine points, while single baskets were flipped in by Tim Plass and Mike Sherman.

Contributing top-notch performances for West Parish were Ted and Dick Kelley, Bob Heidt, Tom Beaumier and Glen Johnson.

Tim Plass and Ted Kelley

again led the board work, while Dick Kelley, Chris Doherty and Mike Sherman produced numerous steals at mid-court with their pressing tactics.

West Parish is slated to battle the North Suburban 'Y' in Biddy League action this weekend, while other out-of-town games are in the process of being lined up with both Wilmington and Lowell teams.

Bantam 'B' To Open

The Andover Bantam "B" Hockey Team opens its season this Saturday night at 5 p.m. when they play the Newburyport Bantams at Newburyport.

Seventeen boys consisting of eleven 13 year olds and six 14 year olds have been selected by coaches Lenny Driscoll and Chris Cullinan as follows:

Future scheduled games include: Dec. 15, 5:15 p.m. Burlington; Dec. 19, 8 p.m. Westford; Dec. 26, 8 p.m., Nashua, N.H.; Dec. 29, 9 a.m., Concord, N.H., all at Phillips Academy rink.

Seniors Hold To Second

Coach Frank Monette's West Parish Senior boys' basketball team won their third game of the season in the Lawrence Jewish Community Center seventh and eighth grade league to advance their record to (3-1) which has them in second place in the ten team league behind the Woburn Y team which is 4-0. West Parish is 4-1 overall as they won their opening game in the Andover Church league.

In this week's game against Lowell, West Parish led all the way as Mike Donahue was the all-around star leading both teams with 8 points and rebounds with 12 and assists with 5. Guard Jeff Rosen and Dave Nardone each tossed in 6 points, while Peter Newton swished 4 points and chipped in with a few assists.

S. Neyman stuffed in 4 points and came off the boards with several rebounds as Bill Hall popped in 3 points all from the foul line and Brian Staid came up with some key steals and banked in 2 points. Gary Johnson also chipped in with some fine floor play. West Parish went 7 for 8 on the foul line as Bill Hall was 3-4, Mike Donahue 2-2 and Dave Nardone 2-2. The final score was West Parish 33, Lowell 8.

West Parish will go on a New Hampshire tour this weekend playing Manchester Friday night, Plymouth on Saturday morning and Bristol, Sunday afternoon. Monday they will face St. Joseph's in the Lawrence J.C.C. League.

In the J.C.C. League, Jim Arnold is leading the West Parish team in scoring with a 17.0 points per game average, while in the Andover Church League Randy Hayman is leading the team with a 14.0 per game average followed closely by teammates Tim Sweeney, Jeff Rosen and Carl Wetterberg with 12 points per game averages. West Parish is the defending champs in the Lawrence J.C.C. League.

Story Book Stuff As Warriors Take Title

By Rick Harrison

A couple of kids who were always battling on opposite sides until last year, a kicking specialist who came up the hard way, a courageous one-armed quarterback and 37 football players who refused to quit brought the Eastern Mass. Division II Super Bowl title back to Andover last Saturday shortly after noontime.

Glenn Verrette and Bill Alexander, who were friendly enemies on the gridiron as rival quarterbacks for the outstanding East and West Junior High freshman football teams of 1972, joined forces on a heart-stopping fourth-down TD play in overtime to pull the Golden Warriors into a 20-20 deadlock with Salem.

Pete Reilly, who spent the entire summer of 1973 kicking footballs in any open area he could find, then booted the decisive conversion to give AHS a phenomenal 21-20 triumph in this most extraordinary of all schoolboy sports clashes.

Jeff Winters, his left arm hanging uselessly by his side and a bruised heel that made it almost impossible to maneuver in the second half, still managed to hit 15-of-29 passes for 245 yards and two touchdowns . . . the second of which went to Mark 'Sparky' Farnham with a mere 11 seconds left in regulation time.

Beginning At The End

The only place to begin this Horatio Alger tale is at the end, those final four frantic minutes and two subsequent series of downs that formed the exciting tiebreaker.

Salem had taken a 14-7 lead with less than nine minutes to go, and shortly thereafter Winters was forced to the sidelines with a badly-bruised heel sustained earlier in the game.

Mike McCormick and Alexander began alternating at quarterback, but with 4:12 remaining a Golden Warrior drive was killed at the Salem 22 yard line on an incomplete pass from McCormick to Farnham.

The Witches ran off several plays before punting with 1:52 left showing on the clock.

Winters hobbled back onto the field to direct a drive starting from the AHS 39 yard line.

He pitched a 17-yard strike to Verrette at the Salem 44, then tossed three aeriels that missed connections before lofting a soft 20-yarder to Farnham who stepped out of bounds at the Salem 24.

Verrette made an outstanding grab of a 17-yarder over-the-middle to the Witches' seven, but on the next play Winters threw his fourth interception as Steve Prisy made a leaping theft at the goalline.

What hurt all the more was that secondary receiver Verrette was wide open cutting towards the back center of the endzone.

Not Dead Yet

"I'll never forget the look on Jeff's face when he came out," recalled Assistant Coach Bill Vickers. "He was ready to cash in his chips."

And with only 1:15 left it looked as though Salem would sit on the ball for three downs and, if necessary, punt in the waning seconds.

But Witches' Coach Ken Perrone, trying to guide his team to the school's first perfect season since 1899, had never been accused of shyness.

After offsetting penalties nullified a 79-yard Bill Pinto to Steve Pinto TD pass, Salem ran an unexpected and bold option play with Bill Pinto pitching out to Chuck Razney. The play had been working all morning.

This time it didn't however, as super lineman Bill Kenney saw the football bounce loose and pounced on it at the Salem 21 with 43 seconds to go.

Perrone may be second-guessed on that call from now until eternity, but AHS Head Coach Dick Collins wasn't surprised by it.

"They had been getting good yardage on the option. They weren't fooling us with it, but they were blocking us out well," noted Collins.

"It certainly wasn't a safe play, but it wasn't dumb either. One more first down for them and the game was over."

"It's like people might have second-guessed me for throwing near the goalline late in the game. But we hadn't gained an inch running inside their 10 yard line the entire game. You have to go with your strength at times like that," explained the coach.

Winters Limps Back

At any rate, Andover had the ball back and once again the gutsy Mr. Winters limped onto the field for another go at the tying TD.

A pass to Farnham went incomplete, but on second down it was Sparky latching on for 16 yards to the Salem five.

Steve Fabiani hit the line for a pair of yards, but on the next play he was thrown back to the five as the clock ticked down to the 11-second mark.

Wil Hixon, overseeing the action from the pressbox, telephoned down what proved to be the tying touchdown play.

Winters took the snap from center, looked left and eased a looping pass to Farnham angling towards the back corner of the endzone.

Sparky hung on and it was 14-13 . . . time for Mr. Reilly.

Pete Produces Equalizer

"We never, never considered going for the two points here," emphasized Collins. "We all had faith in Pete, so we went for the 'sure thing' and felt the odds would be with us in the overtime because we had a kicker and Salem didn't."

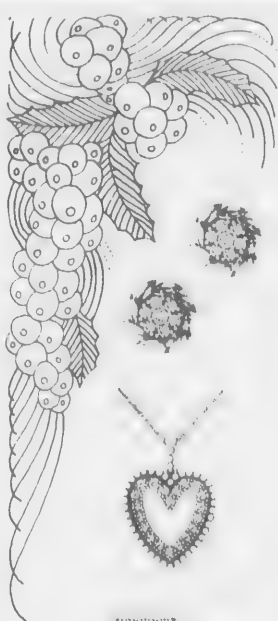

"Pete was put under the gun twice," noted Collins in reference to Reilly, "but the tougher kick by far was the first one with 11 seconds to go. He misses that and there is no tomorrow."

But Reilly never misses, or at least hardly ever, and his dramatic boot forced the tiebreaker.

Kenney Intercepts

There was still time for Andover to kick off, and Salem lined up for one last play in regulation.

Quarterback Bill Pinto threw one up for grabs, and Bill Kenney did the grasping with an interception at midfield.

Tiebreaker

Andover won the coin toss to open the tiebreaker, which affords each team four cracks from the opponent's 10-yard line until someone outscored the other team during its series.

Collins gave Salem the ball first, a logical choice, preferring to see what Andover would have to beat in order to win.

Flannery Effort Superb

Brian Flannery has emerged as somewhat of an unsung hero throughout the whole Super Bowl affair, and although the AHS defensive back played an outstanding game it wasn't until the coaches reviewed the game films on Monday that they could detail what proved to be an extremely big play.

Salem had notched its second TD at 2:37 of the fourth quarter, and the Witches lined up for the two-point conversion try that would have made it 16-7 and virtually eliminated Andover's chances.

"He actually saved the game for us," lauded Collins. "Salem ran the option play to the left side, and Brian was playing all the way over to the other side of the field."

"Alexander and Tallini slowed their runner (Bill Pinto) down, but it was Flannery who actually came from the opposite side of the field to tackle him inches shy of the goalline."

"It was one of the most spectacular defensive plays I've ever seen," related Collins. "It's like giving a kid the 'bunt' sign in baseball and having him hit a homerun."

"Actually we play conservative defense and like the kids to 'stay at home,' but Brian gambled and just took off across the field," concluded the AHS skipper.

Rick Harrison

A brilliant last-ditch dive by Glenn Verrette saved a TD pass on Salem's first play, but on the second formation Mark Dubiel snuck behind the Warriors' defense and took a 10-yard TD pass.

"We switched to the standard goalline defense in the tiebreaker," explained Collins. "We replace one linebacker and set up in a 5-6 defense."

"You've got to think 'run' that close to the endzone. If you don't the other team will blow right through your line. Salem snuck a pass receiver (Dubiel) out of their backfield, and that's the hardest play to defend against in that situation," observed the AHS coach.

The Witches don't have a kicker, however, and when Pinto faded back to try for the two-point conversion he was annihilated by hard-charging John MacDonald who was a tower of strength all day.

"Mac is the only kid who played the entire game, special teams and all," revealed Collins. "Verrette, Kenney, Dave Tallini and Alexander were also in there most of the way."

Alex To Glenn

As big as "Big Mac's" play was, the Golden Warriors still had a touchdown to score and only four plays to do it.

"During the brief rest before the overtime we planned to throw the quick out to Farnham on first down, pass again on second down, and play it by ear on third down if we hadn't scored by then," laughed Collins.

"Jeff was trapped on the first play and driven out of bounds for a four-yard loss. He also re-injured his heel, and there was just no way he could go back in after that."

"McCormick took over for the second down play, which was intended to be a screen pass to Kenny LaFleur," related Collins. "But they put on a hard rush and got to Mike too quickly."

The hurried toss fell incomplete.

"Now I had to think quickly because we were only allowed one timeout in the tiebreaker, and the kids had been instructed to take it on fourth down if we went that far," said the coach.

"I can't really remember what I called for patterns on third down, but Alexander was at quarterback and it was a sprint out pass off the play action to the left side."

Bill dropped back and found his receivers covered, so he moved right, picked up some blockers and zig-zagged down to the five yard line to force a fourth-down, all-or-nothing play.

"Verrette is our best receiver so we wanted to throw the ball to him," commented Collins. "And I wanted Alexander at quarterback, because he's a strong runner and if everyone was covered Billy had the best chance of legging it into the endzone.

"We switched Glenn from wide receiver into the slot, something I used to do with Bobby Farnham all the time but had never tried with Verrette.

"Duncan Black took Glenn's position and we were hoping to confuse their coverage - hoping Glenn would get lost in the shuffle somewhere.

"I can't say the play was planned way ahead of time, but it was always there in the back of my mind," chuckled Collins.

"We deliberately ran the play off quickly, and for the first time Glenn was 1-on-1 with someone. He beat his man and

And the rest is history, as they say, because Alexander fired a perfect pass and the sure-handed Verrette cradled the ball.

cond biggest kick of his life (remember the 14th point?).

And with half the team looking the other way, Pete split the uprights and Golden Warrior supporters went bananas!

Collins raced onto the polyturf and threw a big bear-hug around Reilly, as the tears started to flow from all directions.

Strategy Conference

Winters, Head Coach Dick Collins and Assistant Coach Bill Vickers confer on some strategy during Saturday's title game in Boston.

The Reilly 'Saga'

"You know," commented Collins. "When Pete Reilly came out as a sophomore he kicked great in the practices, but he was nervous as a cat in the JV games.

"Then he spent all that time in the summer working hard to make himself into a kicker. Boy, he put a lot of time into it!

"But at the start of his junior year the same thing was happening. Finally I said the hell with it and put him into the second game against Chelmsford. He kicked the extra point and he's been making 'em ever since. Pete just had to get that first one in competition to help his confidence," offered Collins.

Backtracking

The game began auspiciously for the Warriors.

Andover's Paul Rindone pounced on a Tim Mroz fumble at the Salem 31 yard line on the opening kickoff, but the Warriors' offense never untracked itself.

Late in the first quarter, after Brian Flannery sacked Witches' QB Pinto for a nine-yard loss on fourth down at the Andover 44, pass completions from Winters to Farnham (31 yards) and John Fabiani (16) brought the ball to the Salem nine.

The offense bogged down, and Reilly tried a 27-yard field goal that was just wide to the right.

Glenn's First

However, two plays later Alan Sherrad recovered a second Salem bobbie at the Witches' 26 and Winters quickly hit Verrette wide open over the middle for a 26-yard TD bomb.

Riley kicked the PAT for a 7-0 lead at 9:53 of the period.

Early in the second stanza, following a quick kick by Salem's Steve Pinto, Winters gunned a 20-yard aerial to Verrette at the Witches' 12.

However, Dubiel intercepted two formations later and returned the ball 49 yards to the AHS 36 before MacDonald bounced him out of bounds.

Chuck Razney, the game's top runner with 94 yards in 11 totes, and fullback Mroz who was held in check (10-for-36 yards); gained four yards apiece to the Warriors' 28.

Razney took a pitch right, broke three tackles, and sped to paydirt to make it 7-6. Bill Pinto hit brother Steve with the conversion toss for an 8-7 Salem spread.

Late in the half Andover, behind the solid running of Dave Tallini who chewed up 53 yards in four lugs, marched from its own 16 to the Witches' two.

However, Prisby broke through to nail Winters back at the six, and then Mike Duffy intercepted at the goalline as the half ended.

The Witches' second touchdown was set up when a Winters' pass for Steve Fabiani was tipped to Salem's Duffy, who chugged it back to the Warriors' 36.

Twelve running plays later Bill Pinto bowled to paydirt from four yards out, but Brian Flannery made a key defensive play by halting the two-point conversion try that would have made it 16-7.

This set the stage for the incredible Frank Merriwell finish.

Stats

Farnham caught six passes for 87 yards; and Verrette hauled in five for 85 yards and his 10th and 11th seasonal TDs. Both Steve and John Fabiani

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 12, 1974

By Bill Lafond

The defending Division II State Champion Knights have quite an encore to fulfill as they open up the '74-75 basketball season.

Coach Bob Licare, beginning his 15th season as the head basketball coach at North Andover, has but one starter and four lettermen returning from the 23-1 state champion team of a year ago. Six other hopefuls are coming up from the 16-2 J.V. unit.

The '74-75 hoopsters will be led by three year returning starter, Co-Captain Dick Licare. Coach Licare's son is a fantastic 6'1" guard, who has been dazzling opposition for the last two years with his ball-handling quickness and very slick passing, which has made him one of the most notable high school guards in the area. Licare took over the reigns as playmaker mid-way through his sophomore season. Last season he pumped in 222 points good for an average of 10.1 a game, but the big category was assists, where he broke all kinds of records in averaging 12.5. Licare is coming off a year, that saw him being the only underclassman on the Cape Ann-all team, where he was a unanimous selection.

Three other lettermen return who saw much action last season. Coming off the bench is Co-Captain Brian Smith, Tom Teichman, and Tom Enright. Brian Smith steps into the starting role this season after being the first forward off the bench a year ago. This 6'3" Co-Captain scored 89 points and was a tough rebounder in the clutch on the state champion team. Tom Teichman at 6'2" will probably take the other forward post this season. A very aggressive rebounder, he scored 81 points coming off the bench last year. The other letterman back will be 6'1" Tom Enright, who saw much action in the back-court a year ago, taking the place of the injured Will Uttley.

Enright became the fourth guard off the bench last season pouring in 72 points. At the present time this season however, he is hampered by a slight fracture in the wrist, acquired in football. He will see limited action at the start, working his way to steady action.

Senior Ron Rudis at 5'10" who didn't see too much action last season as a regular, has improved and is very capable of taking the other guard slot. Rudis is a very quick guard who plays aggressive defense and can be a scoring threat. Juniors Bob Redman 5'11", Willie Morgan 6'1", Rich Connor 5'11", and Bob Quintal 5'7" should see steady action coming off the bench. Ed Chaput, Ed Conway and Mike Chaput round out the 13 man squad.

Jamboree Friday

The '74-75 Knights will be on display for the first time Friday, Dec. 13 as they host for the second straight year, the annual Cape Ann Hoop Jamboree. The red and black will scrimmage in the finale non-league Wakefield, for the second time. There will be two eight minute periods for each match-up beginning at 6 p.m. with Masconomet vs. Georgetown. At 6:35 it will be North Reading vs. Triton, at 7:10 Amesbury vs. Ipswich, at 7:40 Lynnfield vs. Manchester, at 8:10 Pentucket vs. Rockport, at 8:40 Newburyport vs. Hamilton - Wenham and at approximately 9:10 North Andover vs. Wakefield.

The Warriors from Wakefield are paced by pre-season, all-scholastic Roger Lapham, 6'5" center. Along with North Andover and Wakefield, the big teams to watch in the Jamboree should be Hamilton - Wenham, paced by two 6'6" front-court men in Nils Pearson and Dave King along with Lynnfield, paced by deadly shooter Alan Harrington.

The Knights have scrimmaged St. Johns of Danvers, Melrose, and Fitchburg high schools this past week and are improving. Defense seems to be the strength once again, while scoring is coming along slowly. This week the N.A. Hoopsters have scheduled scrimmages with Woburn, Lynn Classical and Dracut in a tri-meet, along with Danvers.

Hoop Notes

Andy Breen, Bill St. Cyr, Sid Peterson and Will Uttley were four starters a year ago who were lost to graduation. Sixth man Jerome Gordan and eighth man Kevin Smith were also lost. These six will surely be missed. Four of these men are playing basketball in various colleges. Breen is playing Freshman ball at Dartmouth, St. Cyr is playing some basketball at Essex post-graduate school, Peterson is playing basketball at Moorehead State College in Minnesota, and Uttley is playing Freshman basketball at the University of Maine.

Their three years in the Cape Ann League, the Knights are 48-1 and have won the C.A.L. title three years in a row, going for their fourth straight . . . North Andover High will host their second annual Holiday Festival Friday and Saturday, Dec. 27 and

Guess What Happened

At that electrifying moment when Pete Reilly's kick was good last Saturday, all Andover let loose (which is a polite way of putting it.) As the players began their dash to the conquering heroes on the field and the cheerleaders displayed their enthusiasm, Jim Downey joined in the celebration.

28... On Friday night at 7 p.m. Hamilton - Wenham will play Haverhill, and at 8:30 p.m., host team North Andover will play Lawrence Central Catholic. On Saturday night the consolation game will be at 7 p.m. and the championship encounter at 8:30 p.m. The North Andover Knights won the first annual event over Lawrence Central Catholic 66-46. The N.A. Knights top off the opener Friday night Dec. 20 at 8 p.m., hosting Georgetown.

Knight Notes

The hockey team, under the second year direction of Coach Walter Fitzgerald, have started their season. Twelve lettermen return to this year's team. They hope to improve on a mark of 4-11-3 attained last season. Amesbury, Masconomet and Lynnfield appear to be once again the main teams to beat. Tri-captains Fran Murphy, Pete Caron and Mark Esposito will lead this year's sextet hopefully into play-off contention. They open up next Wednesday, Dec. 18 at Essex, against Hamilton - Wenham.

The wrestling team, under Coach Howard Crozier has begun to work out and appears to have the largest turnout ever. Ten wrestlers saw much action a year ago with Mike Chory, Paul Luciano and Jack Camire the tri-captains. They could be in contention for league honors this season as they open up at home against Masconomet next Wednesday, Dec. 18.

The Cape Ann League Football all-team was named last week and from North Andover on offense is Jim Lafond, inside lineman. On the defensive team the Knights represented two in Mike Chory on inside lineman and Tom Donovan also an inside lineman. Dan Brucato, Willie Morgan, Mike Heafey and Paul Cunningham made honorable mention.

The fall sports banquet will be held on Thursday night, Dec. 12 in the N.A.H.S. cafeteria.

By Carrie Smotrich

The first BWL meeting of the season was held on Dec. 2 at the West Junior High auditorium. The race schedule and the meeting schedule for the upcoming year was presented. A complete schedule of race meets as well as meetings is given below. Please cut the schedule out and post it for reference during the season. Mike Smotrich, this year's BWL President, announced that if the registration exceeds 60, as in past years, Andover will be fielding two teams:

Andover East and Andover West. This year Peter Price will coach the East team and the West team will be coached by Dick Coombes and Harry Mellett. As in all BWL meetings, the high point of the Monday night meeting was the showing of a very exciting ski movie on free style skiing featuring Wayne Wong.

The next meeting will be held on Monday evening, Dec. 16 at the West Junior High cafeteria starting at 7 p.m., at which time there will be an exchange of ski equipment. All Andover Ski Club and BWL members and their friends are invited to attend the meeting and bring any equipment which they would like to sell or exchange. Each piece of equipment should have a price attached to it. Exchange will be between the new and old owners. We would strongly recommend that parents attend this meeting.

Advent Series Continues

THE TOWNSMAN, DECEMBER 12, 1974

Father Donald X. Burt, O.S.A. of Merrimack College will present the second talk in St. Augustine's advent series. The program is held in St. Augustine's lower church, Sunday evening at 7.

Father Burt's topic, which he deals with in the form of a meditation, is "Christmas As Seen Through The Eyes Of The Adult." Following the talk there will be a prayer service which will include the renewal of Christian commitment for all - married, religious and single.

Refreshments will be served in Good Counsel Hall. All are welcome.

Greeting The Cardinal

Cardinal Humberto Medeiros paid a pastoral visit to St. Robert Bellarmine Church Saturday where he celebrated Mass and was guest at a reception. Here Cardinal Medeiros, with Rev. Jon Martin, assistant at the parish, greets Karen and Diana Spinale.

Rev. Paradise To Be Guest On Sunday

Speaking at the morning service, Sunday, Dec. 15, at the Unitarian Universalist Church, 244 Lowell St., Andover, will be Rev. Scott I. Paradise, co-director of the Boston Industrial Mission.

Rev. Paradise, a native of Andover, is a graduate of Phillips Andover, Yale, and Episcopal Theological School. Prior to his assuming the executive directorship of the Boston Industrial Mission ten years ago, he served the Industrial Missions in Sheffield, England and Detroit, Michigan.

The Boston Industrial Mission is an ecumenical, urban-industrial ministry that deals with the social, environmental and ethical impacts of industrial development and growth.

Although rooted in New England, many of its programs have national and international implications. BIM programs aim to demonstrate that the crucial secular issues of our day have deep ethical and religious significance. Among these issues are energy usage, transportation, environmental quality, social justice and the global food crisis.

Rev. Paradise's sermon is titled: "Hope in a Time of Crisis." The service begins at 10:30 a.m.

Christmas Programs Due, Dec. 18

Christmas music and services in the churches will be published in the Dec. 24 edition of the TOWNSMAN.

In order to facilitate the publication of the Christmas programs, all copy must be in the TOWNSMAN office, no later than noon on Wednesday, Dec. 18.

Bob Says:

Everyone today is complaining about how inflation is hurting business and making folks feel as if they'd two flat tires and only one spare. Well Copilabs is uniquely able to help cut inflationary overhead for businesses that use copiers. We'd as soon fix a copier as replace it, and reduce your copying volume as well. It's high time copier users took a hard look at what's being copied and why, and we're the people who can help in the evaluation.

Course there are still going to be those fat cats who have to have "bond" copies because they "feel" good, or for the prestige value. These companies have forgotten that money saved on overhead is pure profit.

Are you concerned about rising, uncontrolled costs? We can help with anything from simple office copying to a total copy/duplicating program and synergistic systems - even if we don't sell you a single piece of paper.

Call us, we understand copiers.

Christmas Carol Service

The annual Christmas Carol Service at Phillips Academy will be held this year on Sunday, Dec. 15, at 5 p.m., in Cochran Chapel. The service will be preceded by fifteen minutes of Christmas instrumental music by the Phillips Academy Chamber Orchestra under the direction of William Schneider; Ann Ehrling, flute and Carolyn Skelton, organ.

The traditional service of lessons and carols is derived from ancient sources, following the practice at King's College, Cambridge University, England. The Rev. James Rae Whyte will officiate along with other members of the Religion Department and with student readers also participating.

This year the Phillips Academy Chorus will sing carols from Eastern and Central Europe, including "The Carol of the Bells" (Ukrainian), "In Dulce Jubilo" (German), and "Infant Holy, Infant Lowly" (Polish). They will also sing descants on familiar congregational carols. The chorus, which is under the direction of Christine Johnston, will be augmented by some faculty and staff voices for this service.

The U.S. Department of Labor's new Occupational Information Systems (OIS) program will provide better career guidance information for young people and others deciding on the kind of work they want to do.

The authentic Jefferson Cup.

In 1810, Thomas Jefferson designed a handsome, round-bottomed drinking cup. He commissioned a Virginia silversmith to craft eight cups in silver lined with gold. Jefferson treasured them highly, and bequeathed seven to his daughter for her children.

Stieff faithfully reproduced the eight-ounce Jefferson Cup (as well as two-ounce miniatures), for you and your family. It is the only authentic reproduction available—truly something to treasure and hand down.

In sterling (with or without gold lining) and pewter.

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

This is an open letter to the Board of Selectmen.

In the December 5th issue of the TOWNSMAN, the announcement was made that The Carr Company, a manufacturer of fasteners, desired to locate a large industrial plant in the Lowell Junction area, which would require about 1,000,000 gallons of water per day, although this might be reduced about 25% by recycling some of the water in the plant. It was stated that the plant "will involve the plating process in its operation which requires process water".

The Selectmen are said to be "agonizing" over the decision of supplying that amount of water to one concern. However, there is another question which requires consideration, namely, the plating process.

The plating process, as usually carried out, involves the cleaning by solvent, and/or by "pickling" in a chemical solution, of the objects to be plated; then plating them in solutions of chemicals, including metallic salts, such as those of chromium, cadmium, nickel and copper, and non-metallic salts, such as cyanides; and finally rinsing the plated objects. Although some of the chemicals may be recovered by recycling, it is obvious that a certain quantity will go to waste as a dilute solution which must be discharged into the sewer system, for delivery eventually into the North Andover sewage disposal plant now under construction.

As some of the chemicals are toxic, even in dilute solution, and may be difficult to remove, this presents a problem for the sewage disposal plant. In order to confront this problem, the following information, at a minimum should be obtained.

1) What is the exact nature of the plating process to be used, and the amounts and nature of the various chemicals employed?

2) Is any substantial change contemplated requiring the use of other chemicals?

3) If, in the recycling process, a waste sludge is obtained, what is its amount and how will it be disposed of?

4) What will be the concentration of the various chemicals in the waste-water discharged from the plant?

5) Is this constant, or will there be any surge periods giving greater concentrations?

6) What will happen, in respect to the composition of the waste-water, if a breakdown or malfunction occurs in the recycling system?

7) What will be the effect of this waste-water upon the normal constituents of our sanitary sewage?

8) Will any poisonous gases be evolved from any acid material in our sewage, particularly if any cyanides are present in the waste-water?

9) Will the North Andover sewage disposal plant be equipped to handle this waste-water, considering its possible effect on its process, and to remove or destroy any of its possible toxic constituents?

10) Will the subsequent discharge from the sewage disposal plant into the Merrimack River be injurious to aquatic life, or to the possible use of the water down-stream for drinking purposes?

11) What will be the effect of the malfunction or possible overflow of the plant, in times of heavy rainfall, upon the pollution of the River, and the danger represented thereby?

In order to obtain, and evaluate, this information, the state authorities on water, sewage disposal, pollution and health should be called upon for assistance. I am not attempting to prejudge this situation, as satisfactory answers may be found to all these questions. But it is obvious from the nature of the chemicals involved, and the volume of waste-water produced, that there may be a problem, and the answer should be found before the entry of the plant into Andover is decided upon.

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

Several times in recent months I have been approached by Andover High School students asking towards a trip their particular club was sponsoring. These students are selling nothing and offering no service. When I went to high school (not so very long ago) we had car washes, bake sales, magazine drives and concerts. The proceeds went for uniforms, equipment and the long trips that have become so popular. This was called fund raising and it created a feeling of satisfaction and responsibility that door to door begging does not.

The Commuters

There is a lot to be said for the hardy band of Andover train commuters, who through sheer determination and their own money, kept the once-a-day train running to and from Boston.

First of all, of course, is the gamble on keeping the train service going, with the possibility of extended service, based on the always unpredictable actions of town meeting this spring.

One supposes that our thoughts on the train service to Boston are rather well known. Up to the point where a representative of the MBTA came to the selectmen just before the October town meeting to explain costs of the B. and M. operation, we were opposed to the train service.

Our opposition then, and even now to a point, is based on the manner of operation of the MBTA. There has never been a semblance of businesslike operation, in We can recognize the need for mass transit service to the core city, particularly in view of traffic problems and environmental considerations.

There is even good reason for the commuter train and the regular express bus service to Boston serving the area compatibly.

But we feel the MBTA to continue to serve the area, even granting that mass transit is forced to a degree to run at a loss, with communities bearing the deficit, must concentrate on some economic efficiencies.

It has made some positive initial steps, we feel with the addition of David Gunn, as its commuter rail service head. He has come to the towns and cities to explain the operation and to offer continued service to administrators in providing answers to difficult questions.

That the local patronage of the train service has seen fit to provide the funds to keep the train going seems indicative of the need for the continued service.

We hope that their faith in the train will be enforced with sufficient facts and figures by the time town meeting rolls around in the spring.

We have been impressed by the performance of Mr. Gunn and the commuters.

Suffice it to say that our thoughts on the train have not been derailed, simply placed on a siding awaiting additional informational routing.

The Finale

What more can be said of the Andover High football team which captured the Super Bowl crown in spectacular fashion last Saturday at Boston University's Nickerson Field.

Frankly, we feel the team, through their actions spoke for themselves in capturing the state's Division II title.

But before putting the cap on the successful season, we must comment upon some groups who have been overlooked in the overall success of the Golden Warriors.

First of all, let us not forget the cheerleaders, who have led the fans in support of the team from those balmy days in September to the chills of December each Saturday afternoon.

We trust they now can rest from their various gymnastic performances and temper their vocal chords in the satisfaction of a job well done.

The Indians who provided the war dances to the accompaniment of the band, to urge the Warriors to greater heights.

The band which has provided not only entertaining half-time and pre-game shows, but some spirited strains during the game itself to retain the winning momentum.

And, finally the fans, who have followed this team throughout the year, as well as the many who follow the fortunes of the Golden Warriors on an annual basis, whether the season be a winning one or not.

For all, this year was most rewarding.

A Suggestion

Christmas time quite generally brings out the best, particularly in the display of charity.

If ever there is a season when there is a fervent desire to assist those less fortunate, it is at this particular time of year.

To make Christmas a little brighter for many in the area whose holiday would be otherwise, we suggest attention to the Eagle-Tribune Santa Claus fund.

The Eagle-Tribune Santa Claus has been assisting countless thousands for 50 years now, annually opening his sack through the generous assistance of Greater Lawrencians.

We doubt that reminders are needed concerning the possibilities of some rather bleak Christmas mornings for some in this area, due to the current difficult economic times.

But the Eagle-Tribune Santa, in his half-century of service, has been able to bring Christmas joy in similar circumstances, and will do so again this year, provided he received the attention from those of us who can take a moment to remember during this busy holiday period. suggest taking that moment to give Santa the helping hand he needs to make his annual trip a little easier, as well as providing a warm feeling for yourself in knowing that your assistance will be greatly appreciated on Christmas morning.

Off The Top Of The Desk

Based on the year rapidly coming to a close, this area of the state has done quite a job on capturing sports championships.

Andover High, of course, took the state Division II football crown last weekend, thus joining other area teams in schoolboy sports supremacy.

Last spring, North Andover High took the state title in basketball in their division.

Later in the spring, North Reading took state honors in their division in baseball.

It must have been a bit difficult for Bob McIntyre of Andover to be completely impartial and unemotional at Nickerson Field last Saturday during the Andover-Salem Super Bowl game.

McIntyre, a former coach and school committeeman in Andover, is now in the Melrose school system and was a director of the post season football tourney for the Massachusetts Secondary School Principals Association, sponsoring organization.

But, even as director, we judge his interest in the Andover game was more than just as observer, since his son Paul is a member of the Golden Warriors.

It's nice to see some of those Christmas lights starting to light up homes in the area.

Remember a year ago with the energy crisis, when the usual festive Christmas displays were limited, if not completely darkened?

This year, there appears to be a return somewhat to the old fashioned holiday atmosphere which prevailed prior to last year.

Award of nearly $15,000,000 in contractual actions to 21 Massachusetts companies and educational institutions was announced this week by the Electronic Systems Division of the Air Force Systems Command.

The lion's share of the $14,761-

391 in contract awards and funding actions went to the Lincoln Laboratory of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, which received $11,519,536 for research and development in advanced electronics for the Air Force and other Department of Defense agencies.

Raytheon Company's Equipment Division received a total of $1,863,158 under two contracts in support of a radar system in Alaska and the North American Air Defense Command (NORAD) underground command post in Colorado.

Andover McDonald's manager Scott Longmuir recently accepted an award check from the corporation in recognition of the unit's outstanding performance in the current area-wide inter-store contest.

The Andover Restaurant has won the contest three times to date in this employee incentive program - the chain's current Quality, Service and Cleanliness Guarantee program.

Award checks are divided among store personnel and the management team, according to owner/operator Tom Curtin

A partial solar eclipse on Friday the 13th conjures up thoughts of evil omens. But at Boston's Museum of Science, it means a perfect opportunity to explain eclipses to its visitors.

On the evenings of Dec. 6 and 13, staff members of the Museum's Hayden Planetarium will describe the geometry of an eclipse, pointing out how the distance between the sun and the moon, and their relative sizes, make eclipses possible.

To help them prepare for the upcoming eclipse, visitors to the Museum on Dec. 6 will also have a chance to pick up some pointers on the best and safest ways to observe and photograph this phenomenon.

The partial eclipse, which will take place on the morning of Dec. 13, is less dramatic than a total solar eclipse and yet still well worth studying

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago - December, 1899

A Ballardvale boy, Dr. George R. Fessenden popular as a resident here before moving to Ashfield, Mass., has gained recent success as a political candidate. He was chosen in the state election to represent his area in the State legislature.

Selectmen Goldsmith and Boutwell were present this week at a meeting of the Massachusetts Highway Commission. It was generally agreed that further road construction by the state would be improvement of ways existing between communities.

The names of hundreds of Andover residents were among those submitted on petitions presented to Congress this week protesting the seating of Brigham H. Roberts of Utah.

The blacksmithery, owned by purchase of the blacksmithery, has been moved from its position fronting on Park street, to the rear of the new building.

The new telegraph operator at the Boston and Maine depot, replacing David Burns, is J. C. Witett, who spent the summer training in Long Beach, Maine. He resides currently in Marion, Mass.

50 Years Ago - December, 1924

Three lines of hose were required to control the fire which destroyed the ell of the house owned by J. J. Feeney on Holt Road, Sunday afternoon.

Gordon Coutts, halfback, was elected captain of the Punchard football team at the meeting and dinner served by the Domestic Science class of the school Tuesday night. Al Souter was elected to succeed Reginald Whitcomb as manager.

Frank A. Buttrick and Dana W. Clark were announced the winners of the two Nash cars supplied as prizes in the airplane height judging contest.

The Andover Savings Bank has been presented with two new flags which will appropriately decorate the lobby. A state flag and United States bunting will look quite appropriate against the neutral background.

George B. Campbell, principal of Marblehead High school and Edwin H. Whitehall, principal of Watertown High school, will act as judges for the annual Goldsmith Prize Speaking contest to be held at Punchard Hall Friday night.

25 Years Ago - December, 1949

Admiral Forest P. Sherman, chief of the U. S. Navy will visit friends and relatives in Boston and Andover the week of Dec. 21.

There is now concern over the town's water supply as the Haggetts pond level has dipped 57 inches below normal. Quite generally the pond is near full at this time of year, with spillage going into Fish Brook.

The school committee has formally decided on a budget of $335,273 for next year, which represent an increase of $19,000 and the per pupil cost reduction of $7 to $176 per student.

A pre-town meeting will be held on Jan. 4, in order to familiarize residents with the proposed school building program which could cost near a million dollars.

Members of the Andover Baptist Church, at a special meeting Monday night voted to purchase the Francis property at 24 Central St., as a parsonage and to issue a call to Rev. Roy A. Nelson to become its new pastor.

Financial records have a way of accumulating over the years. Bills, checks, and other records start to surround us from all sides. Eventually we are tempted to chuck it all into the trash barrel with a fond good riddance and a sigh of relief. But hold on! Some records should never be thrown out. The wise homeowner will make a permanent file for his deed of title, legal costs of acquiring his house, and bills for capital improvements. Holiday Song, Verse At Shawsheen

A program of song and verse entertained Shawsheen school parents at 10:30 a.m. the day before Thanksgiving.

Presentations were made by the various units, after a welcome and a proclamation by Kenneth Taylor.

The Kindergarten portion included "Thanksgiving," a poem; A Turkey Sat on a Back Yard Fence," a song; "Wake Up Little Pilgrims," a poem; "Five Fat Turkeys," a song; "Ten Little Indians," a poem; and "John Brown" and "Gobble, Gobble," both songs.

Unit A sang "The Peace Pipe," "Grinding Corn," and "We Are Thankful," while Unit B sang "This Land Is Our Land."

Unit C presented "Thanksgiving Song," led by Rebecca Erban with Scott Wright as soloist, and "Some Thanksgiving Thoughts" by the entire group.

Artistically Speaking

Ed Parker, center, discusses some art work with Marilyn Stella and Karen Harris at the meeting of the Andover Artists Guild held Sunday. Mr. Parker, recipient of several awards, is a graduate of Andover High school and was a student of Frances Dalton.

Colin Davis To Direct Symphony

Colin Davis, Principal Guest Conductor of the Boston Symphony, directs the orchestra during the twelfth week of the winter season. The program will include Sibelius' Symphony No. 7 in C and the orchestra's first performances of three works: Elgar's Serenade in E minor for String Orchestra, Berlioz' "Waverley" Overture and the same composer's "The Death of Cleopatra," which will feature mezzo-soprano Josephine Veasey as soloist. The concerts will take place on Friday, Jan. 3, at 2 p.m.; Saturday, Jan. 4, at 8:30 p.m.; and Tuesday, Jan. 7, at 7:30 p.m. The series will be Davis' third with the orchestra this season, and for Miss Veasey it will mark her first Boston Symphony appearance since her participation in Erich Leinsdorf's 1969 performances of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony.

Davis, who is also Musical Director of the Royal Opera House and Principal Guest Conductor of the London Symphony Orchestra, has received particular critical acclaim as an interpreter of Berlioz, whose music he has recorded extensively on the Philips label. Josephine Veasey, a leading mezzo at Covent Garden, has appeared with many of the world's great orchestras and opera companies, among them the Metropolitan and La Scala. She too has achieved distinction as a Berlioz interpreter, having appeared under Davis' direction in the Philips recordings of "Beatrice et Benedict," "Les Troyens" and "Les Nuits d'Ete."

The two Berlioz works are early compositions. The "Waverley" Overture, inspired by Scott's novel of the same name, dates from 1828, when the composer was a twenty-five year old student at the Paris Conservatory. He wrote "The Death of Cleopatra" during the following year in an unsuccessful bid to win the Prix de Rome. It is a rarely performed work whose dramatic and remarkably original depiction of Cleopatra's final moments proved too advanced for its audience in 1829.

Elgar's Serenade was one of the great British composer's earliest successes. It is a brief but subtle and rich three-movement work that remained a favorite of the composer throughout his life. Sibelius' one-movement Seventh Symphony, regarded by some as his finest work, dates from the Finnish composer's sixtieth year. Its austere and brooding emotionalism makes it one of the best examples of Sibelius' final musical style.

The Yule Log

To celebrate the passing of the long winter night, ancient Scandinavians burned a large log to commemorate the return of the sun, their source of light, heat and life, at the winter solstice, known as Yule.

The log was only half-burned, the other half stored to be used to start the fire for the next year's celebration.

Turkey Not Just For Thanksgiving

With Thanksgiving past you may be going back to hamburger or roasts, but if you do you'll be missing one of the year's best buys, says the Massachusetts Department of Agriculture (MDA) this week.

PARKER BIG RED PEN

THE PARKER PEN COMPANY

That best buy is turkey. Lower by some 20 cents a pound than a year ago, it's half the price of ground beef, yet more versatile and equally full of protein.

And don't let the thought of that big, overstuffed holiday dinner turn you off. What fills us up on Thanksgiving is not the turkey - it's the stuffing, the potatoes, the gravies and the rich desserts.

Plan and prepare meals with turkey as you normally do with chicken and you'll feed your family very well and save money in the bargain.

Large, fresh-frozen turkey is selling currently at 49 cents a pound and up, while regular hamburger starts at 88 cents. Other turkey varieties are higher, with the fully prepared, self-basting kind somewhat higher. Do your own basting and save.

Many homemakers tend to avoid turkey in their regular meal planning because of the bird's size. But as with everything else, the MDA points out, the larger the package the smaller the unit price. What's left over makes excellent soups, sandwiches, salads . . . and even a wonderful turkey pie.

When roasting a turkey, loosely wrap the bird in aluminum foil, roast at 325 degrees, and open the foil for the last half hour to brown it nicely. When the meat thermometer registers 185 degrees, it's done. A 16-pound bird takes about five and a half hours.

The practice of roasting a turkey through the night at lower temperatures is definitely not recommended. The temperature inside the bird tends to induce the growth of bacteria. For the same reason, one should not stuff a turkey the night before it is to be cooked.

Arrangements For A Ball

Mrs. Clifford Elias and Mrs. Robert Kellan, co-chairmen of the annual Camellia Ball, sponsored by the Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association, put finishing touches on one of the centerpieces for the affair held Saturday at the Sheraton Rolling Green.

Discussion Between Courses

Dr. and Mrs. Paul F. Donahue and Mrs. Peter Norton, pause for some light discussion during the dinner portion of the annual Camellia Ball conducted by the Lawrence General Hospital Aid Association. The annual social event was held last Saturday evening at Sheraton Rolling Green and had a new format this year, with a dinner-dance, replacing the usual formal dance and refreshments.

A Gift Idea From The League

You've been to four church fairs and six garage sales; you can't stand the thought of facing the crowds at a shopping center again and you have no time to make another needlepoint pillow or knit another scarf.

And you still have more names to check off on your Christmas gift list. You need one more thing to fill your highschooler's stocking. What are you going to get your husband's great aunt who has lived in Andover all her life? What about your niece who just got married? And don't forget your daughter's teacher and that nice babysitter you use every Saturday night.

Before you panic, the Andover League of Women Voters has the answer. Its newly published Know Your Town booklet makes the perfect gift for all those have-everything-else people.

Inside its bright Christmasy-green cover is all sorts of valuable information running the gamut from the early history of Andover (did you know that 41 of our citizens were accused of being witches in 1642?) to town government (can you name all the officials we elect at our local election?) to finance (how is your tax rate determined?) with an exciting green centerfold section on Where to Find it (passport office, school committee meetings, etc.).

At only $2.00, this booklet makes a really different Christmas gift idea. It's being sold at Memorial Hall Library, Thompson's and the Andover Bookstore.

Dancing Classes Offered

In addition to the varied dancing classes included in the Winter Term program of the Andover-North Andover YMCA a special evening of Folk Dancing is scheduled at the North Andover YMCA facility (Community Center) on Dec. 17, 7:30-9 p.m. Adults and youth in grades 10-12 will be introduced to various forms of folk dancing. The program is open to any category of YMCA member with no fee for the evening. Questions may be addressed to Janet R. Mead, Physical Director of Women and Girls.

Registrations for the scheduled dance programs will be accepted beginning Dec. 19 at the 165 Haverhill St., Andover facility. A descriptive folder is also available at the YMCA.

Adult Ballroom Dance instruction will be offered under professional instructor Marie Parker. The program will be conducted at the North Andover YMCA on ten Tuesdays beginning Jan. 7 with a beginners' class meeting 8:45-10 p.m. and an intermediate group 7:30-8:45 p.m. Instruction in all basic American and Latin dances will be given including: Waltz, Foxtrot, Polka, Hully Gully, Cha Cha, Swing, Alley Cat, Snoopy, Greek Line Dances, Tango, Rumba, etc. Enrollment is by couples only.

A Ballet instruction program and Tap Dancing classes will be offered, also at the North Andover building. Ballet for beginning tots (3-6 years of age) is offered on Mondays 10:30-11:15 a.m. and for intermediates on Monday 9-9:45 a.m., with an afternoon class for both ability groups on Fridays 2-2:45 p.m. Tap Dancing for pre-schoolers will be offered on Mondays 9:45-10 a.m. or Fridays 2:45-3:30 p.m. Girls in grades from 1-6 may elect a beginners' Ballet class on Fridays at 3:30 or an intermediate class on the same day at 5:15. A beginners' Tap Dance class for girls in grades 1-4 is offered on Friday 4:30-5:15 p.m. Carol Fugere will instruct these classes. All Ballet and Tap Dancing Classes start the week of Jan. 6.

Janet Cooper will instruct a beginners' Ballet course at the new YMCA building on Wednesdays, 4:15-5 p.m. This program is open only to Full Privilege and Basic YMCA members in grades 10-12. This five week program starts Feb. 3.

Other dancing classes are limited to Full Privilege YMCA members. "Rhythmic and Dancing" under instructors Janet Mead and Janet Cooper will include introductions to modern dance, rhythmic gymnastics and folk dancing. The 10 week courses include a class for girls in grades 1-3 on Fridays 3:30-4:15 p.m., grades 4-6 on Fridays 4:15-5 p.m. both starting Jan. 10, and beginning Jan. 8 a class for girls in grades 7-12 which meets on Wednesdays 5-5:45 p.m. An "Exercise through Dancing" class for women will be taught by Janet Mead and Janet Cooper on Tuesdays 10:30-11:30 a.m. and will include an introduction to modern dancing, folk dancing and exercise to music. The course will begin Jan. 7.

Girls in grades 3-9 may register for a Baton Twirling course on Saturdays 9-9:45 a.m., 10 weeks beginning Jan. 4. Instructor Beverly Manning will teach Baton Twirling movements and dance routines for beginners and for intermediates.

Women's Club To Extend Latin Aid

Federated Women's Clubs throughout the state of Massachusetts will extend their international interests to Latin America during 1974-1976, it was announced this week by Mrs. Frank Schiller, president of the Shawsheen Village Women's Club.

While the United States is celebrating its 200th anniversary, clubwomen throughout our state will be helping our Latin American neighbors to achieve solutions to basic problems similar to those confronted by the colonists back in the 1700s," she said.

Through the international agency, CARE, member clubs of the General Federation of Women's Clubs will engage in fund raising efforts to support projects of food production, water systems, irrigation, education, and community development in Ecuador, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Peru and Honduras.

Many thousands throughout these Latin American nations are eager to improve their standard of living and to help make possible a better way of life for their children," Mrs. Schiller said.

"These are the same goals which motivated our ancestors," she added, "and it seems appropriate that those of us who have achieved these goals make every effort to assist others who seek them."

Sugar Boycott At Pike

An eighth grade class, studying "Rebel in America," has decided to boycott sugar as part of their class work and a general protest against the high cost of sugar.

The method of protests will be a three-day boycott of sugar by the students who have stated they will refuse to eat anything that contains granulated sugar on Monday to Wednesday, Dec. 16-18.

The participating students intend to bring sugar-free lunches from home rather than eating in the school cafeteria and at home will refrain from sugar use.

Students participating include Katy Bride, Lesley Dalby, Tara Horne, Bruce Linsay, Steve Perry, Tom Rourke, Jackie Simmers, Dick Nader, Jeff Kowton, Amy Quirinale and Alex Palmer.

Among Best Buys at the produce counter this week are yellow onions and yellow turnips, selling at 10 cents a pound. Carrots and sweet potatoes are on special sale in many stores. Citrus fruits and native apples are economically priced. Some good native fish buys are coming into the Boston market. Look for them and save, says the MDA.

Mrs. Larry W. Henderson

Birdsall - Henderson

Mr. and Mrs. John Morrison Birdsall, Jr., of Boston and Andover announce the marriage of their daughter, Emily Knipe Birdsall, to Larry William Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Henderson of Phoenix, Arizona.

The garden ceremony was performed by Dr. Frank McKobbon, Pastor Emeritus of the Central United Methodist Church, formerly Head Professor of the School of Divinity of Boston University, after which the Hendersons received their guests in Encanto House.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attended by Mrs. Patricia Bower Birdsall, her sister-in-law and Edward Biggs of Whittier, California was the best man.

Mrs. Henderson was graduated from Abbot Academy and attended Swarthmore College and Boston University. She is currently on the coordinating staff of St. Luke's Hospital in Phoenix. Mrs. Henderson is the granddaughter of the late Dr. and Mrs. John Morrison Birdsall of Andover and the late Colonel William Henry Root and Victoria Knipe Root of Boston and Haverhill. She is also a direct descendant of the first Lieutenant Governor Wentworth of New Hampshire.

Mr. Henderson, a partner with his father of the Henderson Archery Corporation, attended Arizona State University and Boston University.

The Hendersons are now at home in their Phoenix, Arizona residence.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Deyermund

Deyermund - Schweinsburg

At home in Sag Harbor, N.Y., are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Thomas Deyermund, who were married October 26 in Christ Episcopal Church, Sag Harbor.

The bride is the former Bethany Louise Schweinsburg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Schweinsburg of Sag Harbor, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Deyermund, 64 Andover St., Andover.

The Rev. Leroy L. Zavadil performed the 2 p.m. ceremony in the church decorated with horns of plenty and baskets of fall flowers. The bride's brother, Richard Schweinsburg, was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an empire-waist gown of white, satin crepe, accented with alencon and Venice lace, and a long chapel train. Her elbow-length, three-tier veil was held in place by a matching lace cape, and she carried a cascade bouquet of talisman roses, stephanotis and small white carnations.

Mrs. Stanley Martin of Sag Harbor served as matron of honor, and Miss Cynthia Schaad of Toms River, N.J., as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were the Misses Laureen Carney, Kathleen Rozzi and Noreen Maier, all of Sag Harbor.

They wore A-line, halter gowns of hunter green and rust with matching hooded jackets, and carried cascade bouquets of fall flowers.

Mrs. Schweinsburg chose a mint-green, sleeveless gown with matching jacket for her daughter's wedding, and a white gardenia corsage. Mrs. Deyermund wore a long-sleeved gown of orchid, and a white gardenia.

Lt. John J. Deyermund of Fort Knox, Kentucky, was best man, and ushers included James Kurposka of Albany, N.Y., James and Richard Deyermund of Andover, and Richard Schweinsburg of Alexandria, Va.

A reception followed the wedding at the Polish Hall in Southampton, N.Y., and the couple took a short wedding trip. In the spring they plan a European trip.

The new Mrs. Deyermund, is a

Children's Theatre To Stage Benefit Play

As part of its local fund raising activity, Andover A.B.C. (A Better Chance) has arranged for a bus to Boston and a block of 50 seats for the Boston Children's Theatre production of "Hans Brinker."

The Children's Theatre stages a number of productions during the year, professionally directed and with a cast entirely made up of children, and this is their special holiday offering. The performance at New England Life Hall will take place on Saturday, Dec. 28. The bus will leave from East Jr. High School parking lot at 12:30 p.m. and return there at approximately 4:45 p.m.

Tickets are $4 each, covering the bus and theater price. For further information and reservations contact Mrs. John Logan, 25 Marilyn Road or Mrs. Glenn Cunningham, 24 Wolcott Ave. Reservations must be confirmed by Dec. 23.

Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Cunningham are co-chairmen of the Special Fund Raising Projects for Andover A.B.C.

A.B.C. is a national program for educationally disadvantaged youth, and the Andover program was begun in 1967. Currently there are 19 boys and girls enrolled at Andover High School. The students live in two dormitories and operating costs are almost entirely dependent on contributions from the Andover community.

LaLeche League Meets

LaLeche League of Andover will hold its monthly meeting on Dec. 17 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Phyllis Hayes, 160 Chestnut St., Andover. The subject of this meeting will be "Nutrition and Weaning." A discussion will be led by Mrs. June Meckel. All interested women and invited to attend. For further information please contact Ann Anderson, Marguerite Burke, Phyllis Hayes or June Meckel.

Christmas Stockings

Legend tells how a real St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop in Turkey, gave a bag of gold as a dowry to each daughter of an impoverished nobleman. To remain anonymous, he would throw each bag through a window.

By chance one fell into a stocking hung near the chimney. Discovered as the benefactor, Nicholas became known as the secret giver of gifts.

Christmas Concert By Philharmonic

The Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Orchestra will present its annual Christmas concert on Sunday, Dec. 15 at 3:30 p.m. at the West Andover Junior High School on Shawsheen Road in Andover.

The conductor will be Nicholas Van Slyck.

At the end of the program a medley of familiar Christmas carols will be played and the audience will be invited to join in singing along with the orchestra.

It is reported that Santa Claus may drop by to help celebrate the coming holiday and distribute goodies to the children.

Rep Theatre

The Boston Repertory Theatre will open its Third Annual Christmas Celebration on Thursday, Dec. 12. The show, which has become a tradition at The Rep, will run for two weeks before Christmas and have its final performance on Thursday, Dec. 26.

The Celebration will play on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays through Thursday, Dec. 26 at the company's theatre at the corner of Berkeley and Marlborough Streets in Back Bay, Boston.

Bruckner Program At Symphony

Klaus Tennstedt makes his second appearance this season as guest conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra at the concerts of Dec. 19, 20 and 21. The program, which begins Thursday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m., Friday at 2 p.m., consists of Anton Bruckner's monumental Symphony No. 8 in C Minor.

Tennstedt, who conducted the preceding week's all-Brahms program, is General Music Director of the City of Kiel, Germany. Born and trained in East Germany, he rose to prominence there as a conductor both of symphonic and operatic music. He served as music director of the Dresden Opera and the State Theater of Schwerin as well as guest conductor of numerous East German orchestras before coming to the West in 1971. His activities since then have included important new operatic productions in Hamburg, Munich and West Berlin as well as guest appearances in Stockholm and Rio de Janeiro. His North American debut took place earlier this season with the Toronto Symphony.

Bruckner completed his Eighth Symphony in 1887, and the work has since then become one of his best known scores. He issued a considerably revised edition of the symphony in 1892, thereby initiating a controversy that has engaged Bruckner scholars ever since. The work is now performed not only in the original and revised versions but in various combinations of the two as well. Tennstedt will use the 1892 version as the basis of his performances.

Regarded by many as Bruckner's finest work, the Eighth Symphony is the deeply religious expression of a man who rose from humble peasant origins to become one of turn-of-the-century Vienna's most important artistic figures. The work has received numerous performances in Symphony Hall. Introduced by Max Fiedler in 1909, it was most recently performed here in April 1972 under William Steinberg.

To Present Christmas Concert

The Cecilia Society Donald Teeters conducting, will present a concert of Christmas music on Saturday, Dec. 21 at 8:30 p.m., at Sanders Theatre, Cambridge.

Included in the program for this second concert of the Society's 99th season are two motets by Johann Sebastian Bach, Lobet den Herrn, alle Heider, and Singet dem Herrn ein neues Lied; settings of the ancient Christmas hymn, O Magnum Mysterium, by Victoria and Byrd; the Four Motets for Christmas of Poulenc; Spanish carols from the Renaissance; five carols by Colonial American composers; and other seasonal works.

The Chorus of the Cecilia Society will be joined by members of the Cambridge Festival Orchestra.

These days we all like to make sure we're getting the most for our money. That's why we'd like you to know the facts about why we believe the Michelin 'X' to be your best tire buy.

Every Michelin 'X' tire is backed by a 40,000 mile warranty for tread wear on domestic cars. That's just about twice the mileage you'd expect from a conventional tire under the same driving conditions. Also, because of its radial design the Michelin 'X' rolls with less road resistance than conventional tires, and that means you can save up to 10% on your present gas consumption (pretty good considering today's fuel crisis). Plus, every Michelin 'X' tire gives you all the distinctive radial tire advantages over conventional bias-ply tires: smoother ride, easier handling, better traction and firmer road holding. And, they add up to a lot of comfort and safety.

Invest in better driving. Stop in and have a set of Michelin 'X' radials installed today.

Silent Film Program Set

On Friday evening, Dec. 27 at 8 o'clock, the Hammond Castle will present another silent film accompanied by Kenneth Wilson, organist, Charlie Chaplin in Tillie's Punctured Romance with

Marie Dressler, Mabel Normand, Mack Swain, Edgar Kennedy and the Keystone Kops. The film is about a city slicker, Charlie Chaplin, who married a dumb country girl, wanting only to bilk her out of the fortune she has inherited. At a celebration in the couple's new mansion, an uninvited guest turns up - none other than Charlie's jealous girl friend who reveals his true motives to his bride. Flying into a rage, the vengeful wife disrupts the party and starts chasing Charlie over hill and dale with the Keystone Kops in hot pursuit. This was the first feature-length comedy ever made, and this famous picture is a must-see for all silent film fans as it presents Charlie Chaplin prior to the peak of his fame.

Early reservations should be made at the Hammond Castle, P.O. Box 141, Gloucester, MA.

The U.S. Employment Service placed approximately 395,000 Vietnam-era veterans in jobs during the 1973 fiscal year.

Suggestions By Olesen Rejected

Several of School Committee George Olesen's suggestions for streamlining the board's meetings and for spelling out the superintendent's duties, were rejected by his colleagues at last Wednesday night's meeting.

Three routine ideas were adopted as policy.

Shouldering some of the blame himself for being too talkative, Olesen said the atmosphere created is one in which "not enough decisive voting" takes place.

He also expressed concern that the members do too much work individually outside the committee, thus confusing Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert as to the exact "will" of the committee.

In a letter to Chairman Frank Griggs, Olesen went on: "Through better use of our time at meetings and elimination of individual members acting independently without assignment of the committee, then the town can hold the school committee accountable and the school committee can hold the superintendent accountable."

Three proposals defeated by the other members of the board included one to limit comments from the audience to those people who had requested to speak in advance of the meeting, another that all matter discussed by the committee three times be either enacted or rejected, and a list of 11 items for which the superintendent should be held accountable to the committee.

Olesen said the first proposal would cut down on the dialogue between the committee and the audience, but Committeeman William Lane countered that a letter to parents earlier this year encouraged their participation in committee meetings.

He said the proposal would tend to stifle public participation and that "we have an obligation to sit here and listen to meaningful dialogue."

Griggs explained that current policy is that "The school committee normally gets first licks, then the audience participates."

To the second proposal, Griggs objected that some subjects, such as evaluation, cannot receive justice from a quick decision.

Olesen's list of accountable items for the superintendent included the administering of school committee policy, complete responsibility for educational performance of all students, annual recommendations to the school committee on the financial needs of the schools, with supportive evidence, complete cooperation between the committee and all school employees, carrying out of assignments, and replying within established time.

Griggs said the ideas were a rehash of what was already understood to be the superintendent's job, and new Committeeman William Van H. Washburn read the superintendent's job description as stated in state law.

"I think that covers it," he said.

The three Olesen proposals adopted as policy provide that the chairman and superintendent together prepare the agenda for all school committee meetings, that only items received by them before 5 p.m. five days before a regularly scheduled meeting may appear on the agenda, and that public notice of agenda items should be posted no later than 5 p.m. four days before such a meeting.

League Shuns Rep. Town Meeting Form

The Andover League of Women voters has voted "at this time" not to support a change from open to representative town meeting.

There is not sufficient proof, the League says, that Andover would benefit by the change.

The Committee studying the possible change, however, did suggest that open town meeting attendance could be improved by cancelling other meetings, particularly civic meetings, on town meeting nights. They also suggested restudy of the possibility of doing away with a quorum.

Ms. Lucretia Lyons, the unit leader, said that particularly since Watergate, many League people feel that the open town meeting is one of the last vestiges of democracy, and that they're hesitant to delegate their voting power to a representative.

It's just one more place for red tape to enter government, she said.

While a few town officials felt the representative form is more efficient, she said, the committee consensus was that the matter was not "pressing enough" here to warrant change.

Another point, she said, was that there might be more equal representation under the representative meeting, once Andover was represented.

However, the committee did not feel that elected reps would solve all the inequities.

One of the points in favor of representative form, she said, is that in towns where it exists, there is a 75 to 90 percent turnout of reps. If we had that

Howell Cites Need For New England To Act

"The time for crying and sighing about the New England economy has come to an end," Dr. James M. Howell, vice president and chief economist of The First National Bank of Boston, told the 44th Annual Conference of the Southern Economic Association.

Appearing on the energy panel with Senator William Proxmire (D-Wisc.), incoming chairman of the Senate Banking Committee, Howell contended that some sections of the nation think New England is asking for foreign aid rather than Federal aid in relation to the high cost of energy in that region.

"I am sure," Howell said, "that in some parts of the nation, like Wisconsin, Texas or Louisiana, we must sometimes seem like the national crybabies, asking for equalization of energy costs but unwilling to undertake our own offshore search for oil, demanding environmental restrictions far above the national standards and generally asking other parts of the nation to assume the environmental impact on our behalf. 'Well, we are just going to have to face the stark facts that high energy costs are having a debilitating effect on our region and our time for sighing and crying has come to an end; it must be replaced with an active search and seizure program if we are to identify and develop available energy supplies in our region.'"

Howell also observed that, "I know Senator Proxmire sometimes gives the impression percentage of voters turn out for open meeting, she said, there would not be a place big enough to hold them.

She said there is also the feeling that representatives tend to be better informed on the issues.

The statistics, interviews, and other information gleaned in the process of many months of studying town meeting, are now being compiled. After the beginning of the year they will be available to interested citizens and groups who call the League president.

Fire Fighters Extinguish Blaze In Rags

An Andover man fortunately escaped serious injury early Wednesday morning when some rags containing oils and paint ignited in his home.

Andover fire fighters were called to the home of Robert Wilson, 8 Locke St., at 6:44 a.m. Wednesday to extinguish the blaze which caused minor fire damage but some smoke damage in the dwelling.

According to fire officials, rags which had been used with linseed oil had begun smoldering and the occupant was able to throw them out a window.

The Andover Fire Department responded to the following calls between Dec. 3 and Dec. 9.

Dec. 3 - Haggetts Pond Road, Donna Konieck, car fire.

Dec. 4 - Lowell St., IRS, accidental alarm; 20 Ivy Lane, Robert Finlayson, washing machine fire; 123 Elm St., Mrs. Phidias Dantos, house fire.

Dec. 5 - 205 North Main St., Bruce Szklennik, car fire; 139 Elm St., Ruth C. Hobbs, grass fire.

Dec. 6 - Box 44, School and Locke Sts., false alarm; Bancroft Road, Bancroft School, sprinkler system; Central St., St. Augustine School, false alarm; Railroad Ave., Tyer Rubber Co., fire in dust bin.

Dec. 7 - off High Plain Road, owner unknown, truck fire; 280 Chandler Road, James Chongris, house fire; off Osgood St., Robert Gibbons, car fire.

Dec. 8 - 6 Azalea Drive, Donald Connolly, house fire; Lowell and Canterbury Sts., wire down in street.

Dec. 9 - 4 Linwood St., James Reid, house fire.

The Andover Fire Department ambulance responded to 10 calls during the same period.

A Tasty Plate

that he considers bankers in general to be something less than progressive and, with New England in the attic of the country, our bankers would appear to be all the way on the back bench. For the past five years, our bank has been in the forefront in reporting on the New England economy as it really is, both in relation to government spending and energy costs. At the same time that we urge New England to undertake offshore drilling, construction of refineries and other energy-producing measures, we ask temporary equalization of energy costs through a Federal allocation program.

Pfaff In Exercise

Navy Machinist Mate Third Class Charles E. Pfaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pfaff of 2 Juniper Road, Andover, has deployed to the Mediterranean aboard the guided missile frigate USS Coontz, for extended operations with units of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

During the cruise, the Coontz will operate with U.S. Navy and NATO forces, as flagship of Destroyer Squadron Two.

Pfaff will participate in exercises that will cover the entire spectrum of naval warfare, from the ship's primary mission as an anti-air warfare picket vessel, to underway replenishments.

Between at-sea operations, Pfaff will have the opportunity to visit Spain, Italy and France.

The Coontz is scheduled to return to its homeport at Norfolk, Va., next May.

A former student of Northeastern University at Boston, Pfaff joined the Navy in March 1973.

Arboretum Handbook Available

For those who would approach their local friendly city as though it were a jungle and sort out the wild botanical treasures hidden within it, the Arnold Arboretum has provided an ideal and inexpensive handbook.

The paperback volume is called "Wild Plants in the City." It contains text by Nancy M. Page and Richard E. Weaver, Jr., drawings by Robert Opdyke, and photographs by Page. Anyone familiar with the location of the Arnold Arboretum can guess what city the authors chose. However, the volume is as usable in Hartford, New York, Portland, Providence, Concord - indeed, one could do rather well in Paris or London with this pocketable field guide.

As the authors comment:

"The curious gardens of wild greenery that penetrate cracks in city pavement and grow lushly on old building lots are produced primarily by plants which have immigrated from overseas. A few of them were brought originally to North America as garden plants and have since run wild; but most have slipped in accidentally, their tiny seeds caught in the belongings and supplies of settlers or mixed with the seeds of commercial crops."

Many of the most common weeds we find growing in our cities date far enough back into man's history to have grown in the settlements of ancient Greece and to have marched across Europe with the Romans.

The 115-page volume illustrates 96 plant species, and if you can forgive the authors for their slip in calling them "common weeds" you will find them as engaging as any greenery. A weed, after all, is merely a plant we are attempting to extirpate from a garden or a farm field. A handbook user has no such problems. With a little practice one can become civilized enough to enjoy that most beautiful flower of all, the dandelion.

In addition to making one a cocktail-party expert on the botany of cities, the volume gives information concerning how man has used these plants. Of chicory, for instance, the concluding paragraph reports:

Chicory has long been a popular vegetable and salad plant. Its large basal leaves are cooked

Christmas Meeting For Auxiliary

The Christmas meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Andover Post 2128 Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet Wednesday, Dec. 18, at 7:45 p.m. in the American Legion hall, Park St., Andover.

Mrs. George Milne, Jr., Vice President is chairman of the Christmas party to follow the meeting. Members are asked to contact the chairman at 51 Memorial Circle, Andover, letting her know if you will be able to attend. All members are reminded to bring a $1 gift for Santa's exchange.

Members of the post and auxiliary attended the Department Christmas Cotillion held in Ipswich for the benefit of the V.F.W. Hospital Fund. This fund is used to purchase articles for the veterans hospitalized in all the V.A. and Soldiers Home Hospitals in Massachusetts at the holiday season.

Economy Is Effecting Budget

the town's position in meeting the continued request for services, as equated with the ability to pay.

Both the manager and his assistant Sheldon Cohen, have examined all budgetary requests presented by department heads and are continuing their evaluation.

"What happens when the needs are there, and the increases in such areas as labor and materials continue," the manager noted as among the problems facing the budget preparation process.

"Even though we are living in questionable economic times, the residents still desire continuation of programs and services from the town, such as improvements in the water system and continuation of installations to care for the town's storm drainage problems," the manager points out.

The school department has presented a preliminary figure of $9.46 million. This figure was submitted for total municipal budget considerations only and is expected to be adjusted as the school board and administration evaluate needs and requirements in the weeks ahead.

The total town budget last year was $15,729,883, with additional state and county assessments increasing the overall total to $17,758,489.

The manager could not speculate at this point whether these figures would increase or to what degree they would be altered, particularly in such areas as state government obligations.

Incoming Governor Michael Dukakis has already indicated difficult economic times for the state, with a substantial deficit to overcome.

This will have an effect, it is believed, on the amount of revenues the state will provide the town which assists in reducing the overall impact on municipal tax rates.

The manager feels that the overall consideration of the budget will be more time consuming than in the past. He feels that with the economic conditions changing almost daily, some adjustments may have to be made right up through the time of town meeting.

The question at the moment, with current conditions in mind, is what to aim for in 1975 budget planning.

The manager feels the selectmen will be playing a vital role in the budget planning process with the establishment of policy and priorities.

A year ago the selectmen worked closely with the manager in the budget process aimed at an austerity program. This year is expected to be no different.

Applications

for Women in Boston and at Chelmsford High School. She was academic dean of The Andover Institute of Business from 1963 to 1968, and most recently has been business ed instructor and student teacher supervisor at Salem State College.

She fills the vacancy left when Stephen Richardson became assistant principal.

The committee also elected Miss Julie Friel of Newton to teach Grade 1 at West Elementary. A graduate of Marycrest College, Davenport, Iowa, she has taught first grade in Alpha, Ill., and at St. Bridget's in Framingham.

Patricia Morin, who will graduate from Fitchburg State College in January, was appointed assistant girls basketball coach at the high school for the winter season.

A graduate of Andover High, she was a member of the basketball team there, and also at Fitchburg State College. This will be her first year as coach.

Miss Meredith Hanson, formerly appointed to that coaching spot, turned it down because she has accepted another position.

The committee also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Mary Butler, who has been an instructional aide at South School since April.

Other coaching assignments made recently for the winter season are as follows:

Coaching assignments were made for the winter season as follows:

Richard Ferguson, assistant boys gymnastics at the high school, at an extra stipend of $618.75. Ferguson is a graduate of Andover High and Boston State and coached gymnastics at West Junior High last year.

George Sullivan, grades 7 and 8 basketball at West Junior High, $612.15. A social studies teacher at West, Sullivan has had two years' experience in this coaching spot.

Arthur Yancy, freshman basketball at West Junior High, $629.48. Yancy teaches at the Voke School, and has had three years' experience as freshman basketball coach.

David Amundesen, intramural ice hockey at West Jr. High, $382.38. A physical education teacher at West Junior High, Amundesen also held this coaching position last year.

Approved for the spring season was Mary P. Sullivan, girls' track coach at the high school, for $577.50. Mrs. Sullivan is a physical education teacher at the high school and this will be her first year as track coach.

Down The Years

awarded an $85,000 federal grant to assist in the $340,000 expansion program planned by the trustees to be acted upon at March town meeting.

The Vulcan Corp., has acquired the F. W. Stuart Co., a Shoe Last firm located on Railroad street.

The Andover Taxpayers Association has issued its opposition to any piecemeal automation of the school department bookkeeping procedures. The group feels that any automation should be on a town-wide basis, not by separate departments.

Three year letterman Dick Bourdelais of Andover will be with the University of Massachusetts football team when it meets East Carolina in the Tangerine Bowl this week.
